LETTER TO CM, DCM THREATENS TO BLOW UP TEMPLES, HOTELS

Sent day after cafe blast, email seeks $2.5m

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

A threat email demanding a ransom of $2.5 million, failing which there will be explosions in hotels, temples, trains and prominent public places across Karnataka was sent to the chief minister, deputy chief minister, home minister, Bengaluru city police commissioner and some IPS officers on March 2, a day after the IED blast at The Rameshwaram Cafe at Kundalahalli in the city.

The email was sent by a person identified as Shahid Khan from a suspected proxy ID, Shahidkhan10786@protonmail.com, around 2.48 pm.

The email with subheads "Alert 01" and "Alert 02" stated, "What are your thoughts on the movie trailer? If you don't provide us with 2.5 million dollars, we will cause large explosions on buses, trains, taxis, temples, hotels, and public areas throughout Karnataka. We want to show you one more trailer. We are going to explode the next one in the Ambari Utsav bus. After the Ambari Utsav bus blast, we will raise our demands on social media. And will upload screenshots of the mail sent to you on social media. We will tweet information about the next explosion."

The cybercrime police have registered a suo motu case under the provisions of the Information Technology Act and the Indian Penal Code (IPC) on Monday around 5.30 pm. Efforts are on to trace the source of the email.

On the threat email sent to his and the CM's office, Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar said, "We received a threat mail two-three days ago, but we did not disclose it. We have asked the police to investigate it. The mail from the ID 'Shahidkhan10786' threatened to plant bombs in temples, hotels, buses and trains if a ransom of 2.5 million USD is not paid. He has threatened to plant a bomb in Ambari Utsav bus if the demand is not met. We don't know if it is a hoax email threat."

SC quashes money laundering case against DKS

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Tuesday quashed a 2018 money laundering case against Karnataka Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar, saying no case was made out against him by the Enforcement Directorate (ED).

While allowing Shivakumar's appeal, a two-judge bench of Justice Surya Kant and Justice K V Viswanathan, said, "In absence of any conspiracy for commission of any scheduled offence, no proceeds of crime, as defined in Section 2(u) can be said to exist. Consequently, ex-facie, Section 3 of PMLA cannot apply."

Initially, the Karnataka High Court in its order in 2019 had rejected his plea seeking quashing of the summons issued to him by the ED in February 2019 to appear before the agency in a money laundering case.

Challenging this order Shivakumar filed an appeal before the Supreme Court and sought quashing of the case. He claimed in the court that he is facing illegal proceedings without any jurisdiction of the ED. "The case against him is erroneously registered," he said.

In August 2017, the Income Tax department carried out searches at multiple premises in Delhi as part of its alleged tax evasion probe against Shivakumar, his alleged business associate and liquor trader Sachin Narayan, another associate Sunil Kumar Sharma who operated a fleet of luxury buses, Karnataka Bhawan (Delhi) employee A Hanumanthaiah and former state government employee and caretaker posted at the Karnataka Bhawan Rajendra N.

The department seized more than ₹8.59 crore. The tax department later filed a chargesheet before a court alleging tax evasion by all the accused. The ED took cognisance of this complaint to file a money laundering case in 2018. P6

HC acquits ex-DU prof in Maoist link case

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

THE Nagpur bench of the Bombay High Court on Tuesday acquitted former Delhi University Prof G N Saibaba, who was awarded life imprisonment by a Maharashtra trial court in an alleged Maoist links case under the stringent Unlawful Activities Prevention Act (UAPA).

A bench of justices Vinay G Joshi and Valmiki S A Menezes ruled that the prosecution failed to prove the case beyond reasonable doubt and held the sanction for prosecution under the UAPA null and void. It added that "violation of mandatory provisions of the law itself amounts to failure of justice".

Wheelchair-bound Saibaba and five others were convicted by the trial court in 2017 but the high court acquitted them all. They have been under custody since 2013-14. The bench refused the prosecution's request to stay the operation of its order so as to file an appeal, saying it may affect the personal liberty of the accused. However, the state government moved the Supreme Court against the verdict.

"The prosecution has failed to prove beyond reasonable doubt the case against the accused persons... (It) has failed to establish any legal seizure or any incriminating material against the accused," the HC verdict said.

"The trial court judgment is not sustainable in the hands of law. We, therefore, allow the appeals and set aside the impugned judgment. All the accused stand acquitted," the bench said.

In 2022, another bench of the HC had arrived at the same conclusion on procedural grounds, citing the absence of a valid sanction under Section 45(1) of the UAPA. But the SC stayed that verdict and ordered a fresh hearing by a new bench of the HC.

The trial court had sentenced Saibaba, Mahesh Kariman Tirki, Hem Keshavdatta Mishra, Pandu Pora Narote and Prashant Rahi to life imprisonment. The sixth accused, Vijay Tirki, was sentenced to 10 years in jail.

'ONE POLL'

Report before poll dates out

PREETHA NAIR @New Delhi

THE 22nd Law Commission is likely to submit the final report on the feasibility of holding simultaneous elections to the Lok Sabha, state assemblies and local bodies, to the Union law ministry before the announcement of the Lok Sabha poll schedule, according to sources in the ministry. The Election Commission of India is expected to announce the poll dates by mid-March.

The Commission, headed by Justice Rituraj Awasthi, has recommended several amendments to the Constitution to facilitate a full-fledged rollout of simultaneous polls by 2029. Along with amendments to the Representation of the People Act, 1951, the panel may suggest a new chapter in the Constitution on holding simultaneous elections and the creation of a common electoral roll.

It was learnt that the high-level committee led by former President Ram Nath Kovind has approved most of the suggestions and is also in favour of simultaneous elections across the country.

Sources said that the law panel may recommend introducing an additional chapter, Part XV-A, through a constitutional amendment. P12

BULLET TRAIN PROJECT SENDS FARMING FAMILIES INTO A TIZZY

435-km project connecting Chennai, Bengaluru, Mysuru will hit 28 villages in Ramanagara

YATHIRAJU @ Bengaluru

FARMERS from Ramanagara district, who depend on agriculture, horticulture and dairy farming, are apprehensive that they could lose their rich, fertile land to the 435-km Chennai-Bengaluru-Mysuru Bullet Train project.

The district administration is taking steps after the National High-Speed Rail Corporation Ltd (NHSRCL) requested the deputy commissioner to provide revenue maps of 28 villages, which are likely to be affected, to prepare the detailed project report.

The NHSRCL has informed the DC that the consultancy services for the project has been handed over to private agencies and that the DC should provide necessary assistance to these agencies.

In turn, the district administration has written to the grama panchayats, along with the details of the survey numbers of lands to be taken for the corridor, the extent of land and owners of those lands.

The personnel involved with the project are visiting the villages and collecting Aadhaar cards of farmers, who are likely to be affected. The project team is also informing the villagers that a railway line could pass through their lands. After the DPR is prepared, the preliminary notification will be issued for the acquisition of lands, sources said.

"We have seen about three proposed alignments marked in and around our villages. But we are now worried as it is said that the line marked on our land is the one that is being finalised for the project. We will get a compensation for the land, but what can we do if our main livelihood of agriculture is gone," said a resident of Kudluru village in Channapatna taluk. He pointed out that hundreds of acres of farmlands, on which coconut, mulberry, banana, paddy, ragi, mango, etc. are grown will be lost to farmers.

Another resident said there is a silver lining among people in the district because the groundwater table has recharged because of a lake-filling project and villagers are involved in agriculture, horticulture and dairy. Those who have large parcels of land will not be affected by families who have more than a piece of land may not be worried if some parcels of their land is gone for the project but those who have only a piece of land will be severely affected, he added.

VILLAGES LIKELY TO BE AFFECTED

Talakuppe, KG Bheemanahalli, Belakempanahalli, Bananduru, Badadi, Kenchanakuppe, Kallugopanahalli, Kempanahalli, Mayagondanahalli, Kethohalli, Basavanapura, Kotthipura, Shidlakallu, Acchalu, Acchalu state forest, Vibhuthikere, Bommanahalli, Brahmanipura, Thagachagere, Thimmasandra, Sunnaghatta, Honganuru, Kudluru, Hottiganahosahalli, Chakkere, Kuranagere, Chakkaluru and Kukkuru.

WORK DONE DO FAR

- Desktop study work and further preliminary route development have been completed in January 2023
- Stakeholder discussion; other activities (Environment Impact Assessment Report, etc.) have been completed and alignment has been finalized in May 2023
- Light Detection and Ranging survey and alignment design and balance activities are under way

Govt releases textbook revision report for 2024-25

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka Textbook Society on Tuesday released a report on changes made to textbooks for classes 1-10 for the year 2024-25. The notification came late in the evening without the officials making a big announcement.

The textbook revision committee formed by the government was led by Manjunath Hegde, a retired professor of history, who made several changes in the syllabus following the National Curriculum Framework-2005. At the onset, more emphasis has been given to Kannada literature with a focus on cultural leaders from the state and works by Jnanpith awardees have also been included for classes 8-10.

The notification highlighted that the revision was carried out keeping in mind only the educational interests of the students without changing the basic framework of the revised textbooks. All the requests made by various organisations, individuals and government departments regarding inclusion and omission have been reviewed and appropriate suggestions were considered, it stated.

To reduce the burden on students due to the weight of textbooks, the education department previously also passed an order to divide textbooks into two parts. Appropriate context of the contents has been given in both sections. As per the release, social science textbooks have been revised keeping in mind the Constitution, gender sensitivity, information on child rights and democratic and secular values of the country.

For political science books, new developments such as the Women's Reservation Bill, India's international relations and information on local bodies in the legislative system have been added. Several minor changes have been made in titles and various chapters: 'Religions' have been changed to 'Dharmas', and more information was added to the Sanatan Dharma chapter. According to the relevant content, maps, taluk and district-related figures have also been updated.

The revision included Kannada language textbooks for both first and second languages for classes 1-10, third language Kannada textbooks for classes 9-10 and social science textbooks spanning classes 6-10.

Nasscom urges state to review uniform cab fares

ENS @Bengaluru

THE National Association of Software and Service Companies (Nasscom) has urged the State government to review the newly notified cab fares in Karnataka. On February 3, the Karnataka government, through a notification, revised cab fares in the state, doing away with the concept of surge pricing and fixing minimum fare applicable for 4 km.

Nasscom, in its blog post, said it has written a letter to the state government, raising its concerns. "Earlier, a range of per-km fare was in place. This allowed app-based taxi aggregators to deploy dynamic pricing, with guardrails, ie, within the permitted range of fares. With the latest notification, this is no longer possible because of the mandatory flat fares," Nasscom said in the post dated February 29, and insisted that dynamic pricing be restored.

"The fare structure for app-based taxis and non-app-based city taxis was different earlier. The higher fare for app-based taxis considered the added value (such as route-tracking, ride-sharing feature, customer care services) offered by app-based taxi services, and taxis hailed on the street.

However, the new fare structure mandates the same fare for app-based and non-app-based taxis, thereby making it tougher to offer and improve value-added services. Further, given the flat fares, the earlier practice of app-based taxi aggregators to cover service fee/commission within the fare brackets is also not possible anymore," Nasscom said

Digital Karnataka RISC-V workshop inaugurated at Cambridge Institute of Technology

CAMBRIDGE TECH SCHOOL HOLDS WORKSHOP ON DIGITAL KARNATAKA

Bengaluru: The Cambridge Institute of Technology organised the Digital Karnataka RISC-V (Reduced Instruction Set Computing, 5th version) workshop, bringing together industry experts and academia, where the significance of collaboration and innovation in technological advancement was highlighted. The workshop aimed to foster strong collaboration between the industry and academia to promote innovative thinking and ventures that will lay a fertile ground for future advancements in RISC-V technology. Dr Bernard Quendt, Senior Vice President and Group Chief Technical Officer at Thales, said, "Given the tradition of innovation, India will become an important pillar of this disruptive technological movement. Together with CIT, Thales will continue contributing to advancements in the digital ecosystem." Dr Shankar Venugopal, Vice-President of Mahindra and Mahindra, said, "Though RISC-V is part of the semiconductor industry and appears to have no connection to the automotive sector, the design based on this technology and its knowledge is extremely pertinent to solving real-life problems. This knowledge will usher in transformative changes in automotive electronics." ENS

India's data quality not up to mark, stats system needs overhaul: Economist

PURAN CHOUDHARY @Bengaluru

THE quality of data in India is not up to the mark and "it has only become worse" given that they have not been updated, and the country's statistical system needs an overhaul, said Neelkanth Mishra, chairperson, Unique Identification Authority of India (UIDAI) and part-time member of the Prime Minister's Economic Advisory Council.

Industrial projection data is completely discounted from reality. In a fast-growing economy like India, the economic structure keeps changing and surveys need to be done continuously, he said. "We had to discard the 2018 survey because of demonetisation and then COVID-19 happened so the quality is extremely bad. With the Consumer Price Index (CPI), the data is expected to be slightly better with representation of current trends," the economist said at the Azim Premji University public lecture series on Tuesday.

On India's growth, Mishra highlighted that India will grow at a rate of over 7%, but it will be "unequal growth" and the country should be ready for this given that there would be political implications and a need for policy intervention. He also spoke about the threat that China will pose globally in the future. While the world expected the country to export inflation given that its production is on the rise, however, Chinese markets have cut costs drastically, hinting the opposite that "China will be exporting deflation".

On the government's priorities, the economists said more stress needs to be given to intellectual property (IB) creation. "The only countries that have broken through the middle-income trap which is 10,000 dollars in income per capita are the countries who invested heavily in research and development, and started owning brands and technologies." He added that the country already needs to start working on the goal as the model of development from middle income to high income is very different from low to middle. India needs to go from "foreign-developed technology to self-developed."

UIDAI chairperson Neelkanth Mishra speaks at the Azim Premji University public lecture series on Tuesday

Explaining the labour share of income in India, he said it has been moving upwards since the last decade which is a good indicator to reduce inequality. "The worker participation ratio in India is going up. Currently, we have 14-15 million workers extra in the economy which is also affecting the labour pricing in the country," he said emphasising that it will take some time to resolve this "excess."

The economist also stressed on the importance of government-to-government connections (G2G). He added that multinational companies are a projection of soft power and India should focus on it.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

06TH March: Sagittarian tendencies are perfect. In fact we're well within a powerful lunar phase, an indication that new projects could get off to a fine start. Astrologers the world over are persuading their business clients to sign new deals today. I say - look at the facts and decide for yourself!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Make the most of friendly business planets, and cash in on current goodwill. You must believe that new opportunities are on the way and should act now to broaden your social contacts and encourage new connections. Only when partners are in agreement will you be free to act.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
As long as Venus is well-placed, you may expect plenty of action and enjoyable group activities. However, your social life will tend to focus on work. Perhaps there'll be a new colleague appearing on the scene. At the very least, friendly contacts could soon ease the way into a new job.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Some happy surprises could affect money matters or home affairs. This looks like the time to stabilise and formalise domestic arrangements which until now may have been left up in the air. You might have to step back from an emotional encounter if the heat is just too much to bear.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
The whole mood of the day encourages formal settings, traditional behaviour and conservative values, so do try to fit in. It may even be fun to enter into the fantasy of living in a past age. Over the next few months, you'll be growing ever more nostalgic for the past.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Your home and working life are well starred, but you must be aware of an approaching financial crisis. Get your affairs in order and act now if there are any outstanding bills to pay or loans to call in. And if partners object, make them see that there's no choice.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
The tension is now building up, as it does once or twice a month when the planets form certain intriguing patterns. You are now reaching a moment of decision and will at last be forced to get off the fence. And that, I should think, is no bad thing at all!

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
You may feel reasonably justified in expecting a response to a recent interview or at the very least an answer to an important question. However, planetary activity over the coming days is due to muddy the waters even further. Plus, you should be able to start dealing with real, underlying problems.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Any changes that you are anxious to put into effect may involve more people than you at first thought. This is why you must grit your teeth and discuss even your personal plans with friends and acquaintances. On the other hand, when partners are so reluctant, do you really need their support?

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
It is at the most trivial level that your grand plans are capable of coming unstuck. So, is issues of principle are all very well, but you would be advised to focus on routine and mundane details. Plus, there'll be time enough for flights of fancy next month!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Restless conditions may make it difficult to settle down, so it may be better to get around and explore fresh possibilities. Is there a legal complication to resolve? If so, get on toit without delay. Even though you have strong opinions, by the way, that doesn't mean that you're right.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Long-standing money problems may be coming home to roost. Yet rather than feel sorry for yourself, or dwell on what might have been, adopt an attitude of business as usual and compensate for any losses. You are well on the way to a surprise success.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Whether your concerns are professional or strictly private do not expect life to run smoothly today. Even if you do your best, someone else is bound to come along and stir things up, defeating all your efforts to restore peace and harmony - but only until you recover your composure!

CITY TECHIE GOES MISSING, WIFE GOES TO COMMISSIONER

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A woman techie has approached the Bengaluru City police commissioner to help her find her husband, who suddenly went missing on February 22. He had left for Thrissur in Kerala, but instead went to Puducherry.

P Hitha (39) and her husband Ranjith VR (42) were living with their two children in an apartment on New Temple Road in Whitefield. Life changed suddenly last month, after Hitha dropped Ranjith to the Metro station and returned home. He reportedly called her to say he was waiting for the bus near Majestic. After the call, he went incommunicado.

Ranjith works as a team lead in an energy technology company located in Whitefield, while Hitha is a software engineer. He reportedly had anxiety and depression issues, and was under medication. Ranjith had planned a vacation from February 22 to 28 to his hometown Thrissur in Kerala, and took the Metro to Majestic. He also called up his wife, saying he had boarded a train in Majestic. Instead, he had hired a cab to Puducherry.

After his mobile was found switched off, Hitha checked his call records and found he had hired a cab at a tours and travels agency in Majestic. Hitha filed a complaint with Whitefield police on February 23. A day before he went missing, Ranjith had sent a scheduled e-mail to his wife, apologising for causing problems due to his depression. She received the mail on February 26.

"We spoke to the driver, who confirmed having dropped him till IG Square in Puducherry. Since the evening of February 22, no calls have been made from Ranjith's number. We went to Puducherry and stayed there for four days to search for him. "We were able to trace his movements till Beach Road in Puducherry, which was around 2.30am on February 23. We have not been able to find anything more. He is also not withdrawing money from his accounts," a family member told The New Indian Express.

Whitefield police, who registered a missing complaint, are also looking out for him. "The missing person is yet to be found. We have spoken to the driver who dropped him in Puducherry. Efforts are being made to trace him," Whitefield police said.

Mask name in digital records of accused cleared of crime: HC

ENS @Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court observed that the Fourth Estate (media) should consider masking, delisting and deleting names of accused or victims from their respective digital records and not drive them to court seeking for deletion. The court's observation came after it directed the Registrar General to mask the name of the petitioner in the digital records of the court as he has been discharged from the crime following the 'B' report (closure report) filed by the police.

The court, however, made it clear that mere erasure of the name of the petitioner in the cause title of the criminal petition in the digital records of the court does not mean that he is entitled to seek such erasure from the police records.

"The direction would be only to enable the internet to forget... If it is allowed to stay on record, the internet will never permit humans to forget," said Justice M Nagaprasanna while allowing the petition seeking directions to the Registry of the High Court to remove the petitioner's name from digital records. The petitioner contended that if his name is searched on any search engine, it reveals him to be an accused and because of this, he and his brothers did not get any jobs.

In a plethora of cases, the court comes about issues where crimes are registered without any rhyme or reason resulting in quashing of those proceedings under Section 482 of the CrPC, sometimes on the sole basis that it was frivolous or an act of vengeance, inter alia, the court said. If the accused is acquitted or discharged or quashed of those crimes by the court and those orders become final, he cannot be seen to be carrying the stigma of being accused for all his life. If the shadow of crime is permitted to continue in place of the shadow of dignity on any citizen, it would be a travesty of the concept of life under Article 21 of the Constitution, the court said adding that the Digital Personal Data Protection Act 2023 recognises both the right to forget, correction and erasure.

3 ARRESTED DENY SHOUTING 'PAKISTAN ZINDABAD' SLOGANS

Accused claim that they had come to Soudha only to celebrate their leader's victory on February 27 | BJP ups the ante in criticising the ruling Congress over the recent events in the state | State government reiterates that it will only consider FSL report, and not from any pvt agency

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE Central division police, questioning Mohammed Shafi Nashipudi (35) from Byadagi in Haveri district, Munawar Ahmed (29) from Jayamahal in Bengaluru and Mohammed Iltaz (31) from Krishnaganj in Delhi for reportedly raising "Pakistan Zindabad" slogans in the corridors of Vidhana Soudha are finding them hard nuts to crack.

It is said that the three are denying raising pro-Pakistan slogans and are claiming that they had come to Vidhana Soudha only to celebrate their leader's victory on February 27. The main suspect, Nashipudi, told the police that after Congress Rajya Sabha candidate Syed Naseer Hussain's victory, he shouted Naseer Saab Zindabad and Naseer Hussain Zindabad, but not "Pakistan Zindabad". He reportedly claimed that neither he shouted such anti-national slogans, nor heard anybody shouting and if anyone raised such slogans, they should be strictly punished. Nashipudi has stated that he is worth around Rs 100 crore and is a reputed chilli merchant from Byadgi and is aware of the consequences of shouting such a slogan. It is said that Nashipudi is also trying to contest the next Assembly elections on a Congress ticket. All the three are being questioned by an assistant commissioner of police-rank officer attached to the Central division.

The police have seized the mobile phones of all the three and will send them to the Forensic Science Laboratory for tests. The police custody of the three has been granted till Wednesday.

"Munawar Ahmed and Iltaz claim to be just Congress party workers. Their detailed statements are being recorded," DCP (Central) HT Shekhar said. Munawar Ahmed, who was earlier in RT Nagar, recently moved to Jayamahal Extension. He is said to be a small-time businessman and a close friend of Nashipudi and had gone along with him to Vidhana Soudha to celebrate Hussain's victory.

Iltaz told the police that he is an active worker of the party in Delhi and has participated in the Bharat Jodo Yatra. He further claimed that he is a Hussain's follower and had come to Bengaluru on his own to celebrate his leader's victory. All the three were arrested on Monday based on the findings of the FSL report.

Cong ministers supporting accused: Bommai

Belagavi: It is clear that some people raised pro-Pakistan slogans at Vidhana Soudha after Congress leader Naseer Hussain's election as Rajya Sabha member, but it is an irony that some ministers are trying to defend such anti-national persons, said former chief minister and BJP senior leader Basavaraj Bommai, here on Tuesday. "Standing in support of anti-national elements is a dangerous development. Three persons were arrested after the National Investigation Agency took over the case and filed a complaint two days ago. Those who are supporting the accused should now apologise," he said, criticising the ruling Congress government. ENS

Main accused well-known chilli merchant, close to Naseer Hussain

AMIT S UPADHYE @ Haveri

FOR the last few months, Haveri district has been in the news for all the wrong reasons. After two moral policing incidents recently, the district is in news again as the main accused arrested in Pakistan zindabad sloganeering case at Vidhana Soudha belongs to a small village in Byadgi taluk.

Mohammad Shafi Nashipudi is a well-known chilli merchant and a close aide of newly elected Congress Rajya Sabha member Syed Naseer Hussain. On February 27, after Hussain's victory as MP at Vidhana Soudha, "Pakistan Zindabad" slogans were heard, after which the police had registered a case against unknown persons in the crowd.

The police said that after the incident, Nashipudi returned to Bydagi the same night. A police team was sent to his residence and he was asked not to leave the house. Two days into the investigation, the police visited his residence and took his voice samples. A day later, the FSL of Bengaluru declared that the three accused were heard shouting Pakistan Zindabad slogans.

The police said two days before Nashipudi's arrest, many people close to him were interrogated. Some said Nashipudi was an avid follower of Pakistan elections that happened last month. "He used to raise the issue of Pakistan elections during conversations and used to say that the neighbouring country could progress if a particular leader was elected," a police officer said.

Byadgi in Haveri has an international chilli market and traders from all over camp here to buy the best quality chilli. The famous Byadgi chilli auctioned here is mostly grown in Ballari. Nashipudi has large chilli storage units and that's how he grew close to Naseer Hussain, whose relatives are big chilli growers and sellers.

The Byadgi Chilli Merchants' Association has openly criticised Nashipudi for raising pro-Pakistan slogans. They have demanded that his licence be withdrawn and sales from his outlet banned. On the other hand, hundreds of farmers are waiting for their dues as Nashipudi has not paid them in the last four days.

K'taka emerging a hub of terrorists, says Nadda

ENS @ Belagavi/Chikkodi

BJP national president JP Nadda on Tuesday hit out at the Karnataka government stating that the state is emerging as a hub for terrorists ever since Congress assumed power last May. He addressed a meeting of party workers in Chikkodi and later a meeting of intellectuals in Belagavi on Tuesday.

Nadda said there has been an increase in terror activities in Karnataka since the Congress formed its government in the state. At the meeting of intellectuals, he said he felt sad about the pro-Pakistan slogans raised by the supporters of a Congress MLC in the Vidhana Soudha. "It is unfortunate that Congress leaders Rahul Gandhi and Mallikarjun Kharge are silent about it. Are the Congressmen showing soft-corner to Pakistan by keeping mum?" he asked. Nadda said Chief Minister Siddaramaiah was keen to withdraw cases filed against PFI and an incident of bomb blast took place in a cafe in Bengaluru on March 1. The State Government has failed to ensure peace in the state, he said.

Praising the governance of PM Narendra Modi, Nadda said so far it was being said in the country that things would continue the same and nothing would change irrespective of who was there in power. And that was the political discourse for a long time, he added. "The politics of caste-combination, politics of regional combination, politics of appeasement, and politics of taking support from all but ruling for only one section of the society—this was the political culture in the country for long," he said. He said the Congress never represented the whole society but only a particular caste and section.

Earlier, addressing a booth-level BJP workers meeting in Chikkodi, Nadda said the State Government which came to power by announcing guarantees is not giving anything free but giving terrorism and anti-national activities free of cost.

"Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge, who is from Karnataka where pro-Pakistan slogans were raised recently in the Vidhana Soudha, is silent on the issue. Unfortunately, Congress leader Rahul Gandhi is busy with his Bharat Jodo Yatra but what the Congress is doing is nothing but Bharat Thodo?" he said.

WILL WRITE TO VICE-PRESIDENT NOT TO ACCEPT HUSSAIN'S OATH IN RAJYA SABHA, SAYS VIJAYENDRA

BELAGAVI, KALABURAGI: Referring to the 'pro-Pakistan' slogan row that erupted following the recent Rajya Sabha election results in the state, BJP state president BY Vijayendra said, "A letter will be sent to the Vice-President (who is also the Chairman of Rajya Sabha), asking him to not accept the oath of Congress member Syed Naseer Hussain in the Upper House, until the investigation into the pro-Pakistan slogan case is completed." Speaking to reporters at Sambra Airport here on Tuesday, Vijayendra said, "Anti-national persons were arrested only after BJP staged a protest against those who raised the slogans inside Vidhana Soudha. The state government has not revealed the FSL report of the alleged video footage. If the report of the private FSL lab was not revealed, the Congress government would have neglected arresting the suspects who raised the pro-Pakistan slogans." The government must reveal the reason behind not making the findings of the FSL report public. "Who are the accused and who is the mastermind behind this incident?" he questioned, accusing the investigating agency for leaving the name of Hussain from the list of accused in the investigation. The police must consider him as an accused too, and take legal action against him, he demanded. ENS

BJP WORKER HELD FOR 'PRO-PAKISTAN' CRY IN 2022

ENS @ Mysuru, Bengaluru

AMID the arrest of three individuals for allegedly raising pro-Pakistan slogans in Vidhana Soudha, a BJP worker's arrest in Mandya has stirred controversy. Ravi, a BJP worker from Danayakanapura, has been apprehended by Mandya West police for purportedly raising a 'Pakistan Zindabad' slogan during a protest two years ago.

The arrest follows a complaint filed by Congress worker Kumar, who accused Ravi of making a pro-Pakistan statement in December 2022.

However, BJP workers in Mandya contend that Ravi mistakenly uttered 'Pakistan Zindabad', instead of the intended slogan 'Pakistan Murdabad' during the protest. This discrepancy has sparked debate over the legitimacy of the allegations against Ravi.

The incident dates back to December 18, 2022, when Ravi participated in a demonstration at Sanjay Circle in Mandya. The protest was organised in response to derogatory remarks made by the then Pakistan foreign minister against Prime Minister Narendra Modi. While other BJP workers were chanting slogans such as 'Pakistan Murdabad' and 'Hindustan Zindabad', Ravi's alleged utterance of 'Pakistan Zindabad' prompted the complaint by Kumar.

The arrest of Ravi has been perceived as a delayed action, occurring more than a year after the alleged incident. Nevertheless, based on Kumar's complaint, the police have taken action against Ravi, filing an FIR on Monday night.

Police to investigate

Meanwhile, the state government has also started to probe the alleged pro-Pakistan slogan raised by Ravi, with Home Minister Dr G Parameshwara and Deputy CM DK Shivakumar stating that the police will investigate it too.

Parameshawara claimed that BJP workers had raised pro-Pakistan slogans, when the BJP was in power, and yet no actions was taken.

Shivakumar said that the police had been instructed to take stringent action.

GOVT NOT EMBARRASSED BY SLOGAN INCIDENT: Dr G

BENGALURU: Home Minister Dr G Parameshwara said the arrest of three people who allegedly raised pro-Pakistan slogans inside Vidhana Soudha on February 27, has not caused any embarrassment to the State government. Asked if the incident had left the government embarrassed, he turned the question on the media and asked, "Why should we feel embarrassed? Has the State government sponsored it? We were waiting for confirmation and only after that, the accused were arrested. We have taken action against such people, and the government should be appreciated," he said, adding that if security lapses were found in Vidhana Soudha, strict action would be taken. The three men were arrested on Monday, and Parameshwara said they were waiting for the Forensic Science Laboratory (FSL) report. The government does not take a private agency's report into consideration, he added. "There is no question of sparing anyone. The accused were presented before judicial custody. Inquiry is going one and based on the probe, action will be taken," he added. The minister said BJP leaders are giving different statements every day. "We cannot arrest anyone without proof. Opposition party members are asking us to reveal the report. We have arrested the accused, what is there to hide now?" he said. "Only if the CM, Deputy CM, minister concerned or department officials give information, it is official." NIA will probe, so will CCB On the Rameshwaram Cafe blast case investigation, Parameshwara said since the Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act comes under the Central government, such cases are taken up by the NIA or CBI. "Therefore NIA has taken up a suo motu case. CCB police will continue its probe. We shall share information with NIA," he said. CCB police has also conducted a probe of jail inmates. "The purpose of these agencies is to reach the root cause and arrest the accused," he added. ENS

THE Supreme Court quashing the proceedings against him in the 2018 money laundering case comes as a big relief for Deputy Chief Minister and KPCC president DK Shivakumar and the ruling Congress ahead of the Lok Sabha polls.

"It is a very happy day in this difficult life. I am very happy that the court has given me relief. I have received information that the Supreme Court has given me relief in the ED case. I would like to thank the judges for upholding justice. I would like to thank all my friends, family, leaders, and people for staying by my side during this difficult time," Shivakumar said, responding to the SC verdict in the case.

The Congress leader said he was confident of getting relief from the court. "I was very confident from day one, even when I was going to jail. I knew I had not done anything wrong. I am confident now, and in the future also, I will be confident," he said, and added that they may file an appeal, which he is ready to fight.

Shivakumar said he would comment on the ruling once he gets more details of the order. "I will soon reveal what all CBI is doing, even now, after the state government withdrew permission given to the agency. I am confident that the more they trouble me, the more I will grow politically," he said. Shivakumar is facing cases registered by the CBI and I-T department.

Shivakumar getting relief in the ED case will be a big morale booster for the Congress. He was arrested and lodged in Tihar Jail in Delhi for several days.

Now with the Supreme Court dismissing the proceedings in the case, the BJP and JDS leaders will no longer be able to make any allegations against Shivakumar in the ED case, said a Congress leader. The Congress leaders had accused the Centre of misusing the agencies to target the Opposition.

Take steps to combat water crisis before it worsens, Siddu tells babus

ENS @ Bengaluru

Chief Minister Siddaramaiah on Tuesday directed officials to take steps to ease the water crisis across the state, before the situation gets out of control. Addressing reporters here after holding a video conference with deputy commissioners, CEOs of ZPs and other officials, the CM said the situation started deteriorating in February. Without rain, the state is expected to see above normal temperatures in the coming days.

Siddaramaiah said the government has released Rs 631.13 crore crop loss compensation to over 33 lakh farmers. Details regarding this are available at all raitha samparka kendras. He said arrangements have been made to supply water from borewells to 20 towns in eight districts. The officials have been directed to monitor the situation in the affected villages. In all, 7,408 villages have been identified as problematic areas. "We have signed water purchase agreements with 7,340 private borewell owners," he added.

On fodder, the CM said the state faced no shortage so far. A cattle shelter will be opened in Chitradurga in anticipation of fodder shortage. "We have already invited tenders for fodder procurement," he added.

On the water level in the state's reservoirs, CM said it has depleted in Tungabhadra. People, especially farmers, of the region may face a problem because of this. "Although monsoon is expected to arrive on time, we will leave nothing to chance," he said.

On MGNREGA, the CM said the state has completed the mandays fixed by the Centre. "The Centre has to release Rs 730 crore for MGNREGA works completed in the state. Also, the state is supposed to get works worth Rs 1,400 crore," he added.

On drinking water shortage in Bengaluru, Siddaramaiah said of the 11,000 borewells, 6,000 are not functioning.

Meanwhile, DCM DK Shivakumar said the government would ensure adequate water supply to Bengaluru at any cost. He said they had initiated the Mekedatu project with the very intention of securing water supply to the city. He added that they have also decided to fetch water to Bengaluru from Ramanagara, Hosakote, Channapatna, Magadi, and other towns, using water tankers

Gowda slams state govt for failing to provide drought relief

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

FORMER prime minister and JDS president HD Deve Gowda hit out at the state government for its failure to provide relief to people suffering due to drought.

Speaking to the media in Bengaluru, the former PM said that while Chief Minister Siddaramaiah is claiming that the government has marked a great achievement by implementing its five guarantees, 692 farmers have died by suicide in the state.

Expressing concern over the drinking water crisis in Bengaluru and other parts of Karnataka, the former PM said the government must take immediate measures to provide water to the people.

"A committee headed by a former minister is appointed for implementation of the guarantee schemes and 95 people, including heads of boards and corporations, have been given cabinet rank. What kind of administration is this?" he questioned.

Gowda slammed Siddaramaiah for criticising Prime Minister Narendra Modi over devolution of taxes. "Instead of talking about Modi every day, Siddaramaiah must also tell people what the state got when Manmohan Singh was the PM," he said.

"Who is he (Siddaramaiah) to question Modi? The entire world has accepted him as an able leader," the former PM said.

K'taka HC stays handover of Jaya's valuables to TN

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Tuesday stayed the special court's order to hand over valuables, including gold and diamond jewels belonging to former Tamil Nadu Chief Minister late J Jayalalithaa, to the Tamil Nadu government, a day before the process was to be held.

On February 19, the special court fixed the date to return the valuables, gold and diamond jewellery seized in connection with the case, and directed the Tamil Nadu government to depute authorised officers on March 6 and 7 to take over the valuables, which were seized in connection with a disproportionate assets case involving Jayalalithaa.

J Deepak and J Deepa, the children of late J Jayakumar, brother of Jayalalithaa, had filed a petition before the special court, seeking direction to release Jayalalithaa's properties in their favour. The special court on July 12, 2023, rejected the petition, noting that the petitioners have not made out any grounds for allowing their petition, and to release the properties in their favour. It also said it is not possible to hold that they are entitled to get properties seized, attached and confiscated in the case.

"All the properties were acquired by illegal means and accordingly, ordered to be confiscated. Therefore, the properties shall go to the government and not in favour of the petitioners," the special court had observed.

Against this order, J Deepa approached the high court. After hearing the petition, Justice Mohammad Nawaz passed the interim order on Tuesday, staying the special court's order dated July 12, 2023, rejecting her petition, and also the process of handing over valuables to the TN government, scheduled to be held on March 6 and 7, till the next date of hearing on March 26.

Special Public Prosecutor Kiran Javali stated that Deepa had contended before the high court that Jayalalitha was not convicted since she died before the apex court confirmed the sentence imposed by the special court, and hence the properties, including the valuables, have to be handed over to them.

On February 19, the special court authorised the principal secretary of the Home department and Inspector General of Police (IGP), Vigilance, to complete the formalities in compliance with the court order and take the valuables back to TN.

The court had also instructed them to bring six trunks to take the valuables safely, and asked the two authorised officials to come with a photographer and videographer to record the process.

The Special Court convicted Jayalalithaa and others in 2014, and the order was set aside by the Karnataka HC in 2015. It was set aside by the Supreme Court in 2017, abating Jayalalithaa as she had passed away by then.

PM praises Naveen, adds fuel to tie-up buzz

Bhubaneswar: Amid speculation over moves by both the BJP and BJD to stitch an alliance before the upcoming elections, Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Tuesday did little to douse the smoke, by showering praise on Chief Minister Naveen Patnaik and paying tribute to his father Biju Patnaik, in the two meetings at Chandikhole in Jajpur district. The PM's visit was keenly viewed as the expectation was that he would clear the air over a possible tie-up and set the tone for the election campaign. However, he did not utter a word against the BJD government, and trained all his ammunition on Congress. The bonhomie between the PM and the CM was in full display at the official function where Narendra Modi launched projects worth about ₹19,600 crore.

BETTER COVER NEEDED FOR THOSE WORKING IN RISK ZONES ABROAD

WARS, conflicts, and labour shortage have created risky jobs around the world; and, unfortunately, Indians too have become cannon fodder in the recruitment game. Gangs promising lucrative salaries have been luring our youth for what they believe are jobs as 'helpers' in Moscow. What is emerging, though, is these young people are being shipped to the Ukraine frontline, given basic training, and forced to fight alongside the Russian army. Desperate phone calls have revealed that many have been injured or even killed; while those trapped in Russia are pleading with the government to bring them home. Another batch of Indian emigres has been lured to Israel, where black-listed Palestinians are now being replaced on menial jobs by Indians and Filipinos. In recent Hezbollah strikes in Israel, three Indians have been killed in two separate incidents.

Another example of the tragic devaluation of Indian lives is Taiwanese labour minister Hsu Ming-Chun seeking workers from Christian pockets in the northeast who, she said, had "the looks and dietary habits similar to those in Taiwan". Narrowing down the search for manpower to 'looks' and 'dietary habits' smacks of sheer racism. One shudders to imagine the treatment that awaits our recruits in Taiwan's factories. More important, is there any protection spelled out in the 'migration and mobility' agreement India has signed with Taiwan? When Israel's war on Gaza broke out from October 7 last year, the traditional Palestinian labour in the country was benched, and Israeli scouts landed in India looking for hands to fill the gap. Shockingly, government authorities, instead of raising the red flag of the risks involved in a war zone, laid out the red carpet. In the case of the Indians trapped on the Ukraine frontline, the Ministry of External Affairs has conceded it was in the know of these forced mercenary practices; and it has vowed to bring those stuck in Russia back home. This is, however, a case of shutting the barn door after the horse has bolted! A series of preventive and protective practices needs to be put in place to safeguard our people working abroad. Warnings not to fall prey to dangerous assignments and the rooting out of unscrupulous gangs must be an ongoing process. It is not that the government does not have the intel. The problem is how much we value the lives of those who seek out jobs at any cost.

VISA DELAYS FOR PLAYERS NOTHING BUT FOUL PLAY

LAST week, there was a distressing appeal on social media. It was pertaining to players not receiving any updates about their Canadian visas before the candidates, an elite chess event (it begins in the first week of April). Visa issues have been repeating in worrying regularity, an indication that the issuance is turning more political than ever. "Regrettably, players from various countries worldwide, who submitted their visa applications [a] few months ago, have not yet received any updates on their status. With only a month remaining till the FIDE Candidates Tournament, there are grave concerns about the timely arrival of the players to Toronto," the world chess body FIDE had posted on X. They were concerned and even threatened to shift if something was not done urgently. This time Canada is hosting both the Open and women's categories. Among the affected were at least four Indians including R Praggnanandhaa and sister R Vaishali. Five Indians have qualified.

Things get complicated for Indians because of the much-publicised strained diplomatic ties between India and Canada over the killing of a pro-Khalistan Sikh Canadian citizen on its soil. There is less than a month for the event to begin, but since 10 days are required to issue a visa after formalities are complete, Indian players and coaches are a worried lot.

The visas may be issued before their planned travel date of March 29, but that it is taking more time than usual is definitely a worrying sign. This instance is not alone. In 2022, when Oregon in the US hosted the World Athletics Championships, 100s of athletes, coaches and officials were affected due to visa delays. Some of the top stars including Kenyan sprinter Ferdinand Omanyala reached the venue hours before their events. A few Indians, too, were struggling. Last year during the Asian Games in Hangzhou, China, Arunachal Pradesh wushu athletes were denied accreditation that acts as visas, prompting the India to lodge a protest with China and its organisers. After the war broke out between Russia and Ukraine, there were issues regarding participation of Russian and Belarusian athletes for a while. Iran keeps facing issues. So do some African nations. This is disheartening for players who, instead of focusing on sports, have to tackle these avoidable issues. It is time international federations governing sports took these issues up seriously with all stakeholders including the governments and the International Olympic Committee. Usually, the right to host a multination event is given only after the country's commitment to issue visas, to all. Sports, after all, transcends politics.

QUICK TAKE

ADDRESS CLIMATE INJUSTICE

A UN report released on Tuesday has shown that women suffer substantially greater economic losses from climate breakdown than men in developing countries. The research conducted by the Food and Agriculture Organization looked closely at the four 'castes' that are also the focus of our prime minister—women, youth, farmers, and the poor. It estimates that households headed by women lost about 8 percent more of their income to heat stress and 3 percent more from floods than men; this gap is expected to widen. We hope that when the next government addresses climate justice, it would look to address this imbalance in particular.

It may be a mistake to view Modi's vigorous engagement with the state through the prism of electoral gains alone. He could be wooing Tamils to vanquish the ideological challenge to BJP

COURTING THE BRIDE CALLED TAMIL NADU

SUGATA SRINIVASARAJU

Senior journalist and author of Strange Burdens: The Politics and Predicaments of Rahul Gandhi

TAMIL Nadu appears to be in an interesting spot. In a season of weddings, one is tempted to say that it has been getting the attention of a bride. Between January and now, Prime Minister Narendra Modi has visited the state four times. In his latest public meeting in Chennai on March 3, he praised the state for its "great talent, trade and tradition". He had returned to the state within a week after addressing a public meeting in Tirunelveli on February 28.

Some may cynically say that this is an election year, and he may visit eight more times before May. That apart, it is a fact that Modi's engagement with Tamils and Tamil Nadu in recent times has been inversely proportional to the electoral dividends the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) has received or will receive from the state any time soon. In the 2019 general elections, not a single BJP member was elected. They had contested in five seats in an alliance led by the All India Anna Dravida Munnetra Kazhagam (AIADMK). And in 2019 too, between January and April, Modi had visited the state four times. Anyway, this average has already been broken in 2024. In all, from the time he became prime minister in 2014, till now, he has visited the state 24 times, which is some testimony to the consistency in his engagement. Not many Indian states have been so lucky.

In 2014, when the BJP had not allied with AIADMK, they had won a single seat—Kanyakumari. This time, at least until now, the BJP is not in alliance with any of the Dravidian parties, but a couple of surveys are already predicting victory in about four seats. Although many admit that the BJP's vote share may have gone up in the state, to predict a sudden gain in the seats has to be viewed cautiously. The point, however, is one may be making a mistake if one views Modi's stubborn engagement as simply about seeking votes. He may be far too pragmatic than the pollsters. His courting Tamil Nadu may actually have to do with two things: One, vanquishing the ideological challenge the state poses to the BJP's cultural and civilisational belief system, and two, Modi may have a shrewd political prognosis too.

As of today, there is no other state in India, other than Tamil Nadu, that offers a total civilisational counter, without a crack or a crevice, to the BJP's homogenous Hindu narrative. This counter is exclusive to Tamil Nadu and does not spread across southern India.

SOURAV ROY

Kerala may look impregnable, but it operates at a universal axis that is entirely different. Kerala's universality is a mélange of communism, global religions as well as sharp goals of human development. But in the Tamil linguistic region, in the past 100 years, formally starting with the establishing of the Justice Party, then growing with the rational shock doctrines of Periyar, and finally being witness to the consolidation of the Dravidian parties, it has been very different. Aspects of caste, religion, gender and language have been forged to create a formidable civilisational enterprise and a unique politico-cultural identity. Their atheist tradition did not suppress temples and faith but made them inclusive with progressive legislation.

This has ensured that Tamil Nadu at every bend of contemporary Indian history has challenged the nationalist thesis to present its own exclusive arguments. The propaganda models of the Dravidian parties, which predates the BJP by decades, has created enormous pride around this civilisational formulation, whose starting point, arguably, has been placing the Tamil language on par with classical Sanskrit.

Interestingly, the BJP's cultural machine, the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh (RSS) has also worked for nearly a century to mainstream its cultural ideas. Year 2025 is the organisation's centenary year. Like a cultural imperialist, Modi may want to conquer this alternative idea of India that survives in Tamil Nadu to create a flat civilisational heritage. The establishing of the Ram temple in Ayodhya and to project Lord Rama as the nation's moral arbiter is a part of this project. Unfailingly, Modi included Tamil Nadu in the mythical geography of the Ramayana when he took a dip in the holy waters of Rameswaram as part of his pious observances before the consecration of the Ayodhya temple.

Prior to this, Modi recited Tamil verses at the United Nations; has tried to revive civilisational antiquity between the state and Kashi; taken the Chinese President around Mamallapuram; taken Sengol to the new Parliament; tied his dhoti the way the Tamils do and has balanced the angavastram. He has worked hard on the project to woo.

If Modi has pursued Tamil Nadu in a certain way, Rahul Gandhi seems to have discovered European enlightenment closer home in Tamil Nadu. He has praised the Dravidian model in Parliament. All the major arguments he has angrily and hastily made in the recent past, be it on federalism or social justice or rationalism or diversity have emanated from Tamil Nadu. The warmth with which he wished MK Stalin on his birthday betrayed a certain affinity and admiration of the model: "...wishing you the very best in the times to come as we fight to protect the pluralistic and federal idea of India." If Modi is wooing Tamil Nadu for a reason, Rahul Gandhi is looking up to it to validate his own understanding of the world. That's about the bride's attention we spoke about earlier.

Finally, the political prognosis part. Perhaps Modi and the BJP think that the Dravidian parties, after 65 years in power, may be on their last leg and last generation. Hence, if on the one hand they seek to align with the Dravidian parties, on the other they try to appropriate their base. If Modi praises M G Ramachandran and J Jayalalithaa, the BJP's state unit chief K Annamalai speaks a language that alienates the AIADMK. There is a deliberate ambivalence in their political growth strategy, which is also visible in the confrontational style of the state's governor, R N Ravi. They have co-opted whatever was left of Rajnikanth's political force, Modi wrote a signed obituary for Vijayakanth, gave Ilayaraja a Rajya Sabha nomination, all steps to seek an independent political path. By 2026, when Assembly polls are due in Tamil Nadu, the contours of this battle may have sharpened, for which they may want to make 2024 an important milestone.

BEING ATMANIRBHAR IS THE FIRST STEP TOWARDS A VIKSIT BHARAT

AASHISH CHANDORKAR
Counsellor, Permanent Mission of India to the World Trade Organization

VIVEK SINGH
Board member, IIM-Shillong and ex-Officer on Special Duty to Finance Minister

ATMANIRBHAR and Viksit. These two qualifiers of Bharat are likely to feature prominently in any word cloud constructed on national narratives since the pandemic. In fact, the idea of an Atmanirbhar Bharat is very closely linked to the vision of a Viksit Bharat.

The conceptualisation of a developed country can be painted on the canvas of Amrit Kaal—the 25-year period from 2022 leading up to 2047, when the modern nation state of India would have been free for 100 years—along several dimensions. An Atmanirbhar Bharat strengthens the foundations of each of these. The most common way to think about Viksit Bharat is the economic one, with international organisations like the World Bank prescribing the per-capita gross national income threshold to cross, to be labelled a developed country. The importance of aspiring for atmanirbharta for a strong economy cannot be overstated.

Looking back in history, a definitive lesson can be drawn from countries that developed on the back of distinctive competitive advantages. The ascent of the United States as an innovative, creative destruction-led economy or the rise Japan as the world's electronics powerhouse, was a result of home-grown, fit-for-context economic and industrial policies. Strengths in specific sectors and the ability to shape the global business flows underpinned the economic rise of these countries.

In a world where any particular economic feature can be weaponised, it is critical to prioritise skills and capabilities that lead to reduced volatility and increased certainty. We will continue to live in a global workplace and we are not receding inward. An active pursuit of higher-order capacities aligned with global technological progress, which boosts the culture of designing, tinkering, and building is integral to the notion of atmanirbharta.

Another way to imagine a Viksit Bharat is to dream of a certain coverage and quality of hard infrastructure, usually associated with ease of life and ease of doing business in developed countries. In a huge landmass north of the great seas and south of the Himalayas, the infrastructure requirements are massive, diverse and multimodal.

The country needs simultaneous access to and advances in multiple technologies for connectivity, mass transportation and logistics. This presents an opportunity for us to devise indigenous solutions and technology stacks in a range of areas. Building value chain competencies in niche technologies at a scale that India offers to deployment is an unparalleled market opportunity as well.

PTI

> The country needs simultaneous access to and advances in multiple technologies for connectivity, mass transportation and logistics. This presents an opportunity to devise indigenous solutions and technology stacks in a range of areas

In fact, this approach has already worked very well in the domain of financial inclusion. Population-scale, technology-driven innovation has altered the retail payments architecture and landscape in less than a decade. This lesson in atmanirbharta is a good reference for areas like infrastructure and telecommunications.

In the area of human capital, India's scale requires custom approaches in education and healthcare to address specific outcomes and constraints. Our experience in researching, manufacturing and administering Covid-19 vaccines demonstrates that there is no substitute for localisation of capacities and processes to address emergencies.

Be it creating the safety net of single-payer healthcare for a large part of population or designing an educational policy that focuses on real-world learning outcomes, the best way is to absorb what works around the world but tailor the experiences for our requirements. As the world around us changes rapidly, the society and the workforce of tomorrow has to be visualised and designed without the baggage of histories and precedents.

Very importantly, there's also the atmanirbharta of thought and inspiration, which ensures that the building blocks of our decisions are grounded in the strong foundation of our socio-cultural milieu and idioms. A Viksit Bharat is our own milestone and journey. As External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar notes in his book Why Bharat Matters, "India's destiny is bigger than to be just a part of the future of others." The richness of our civilisational ethos should be a source of strength in this journey.

For a long time, the phrase "developed country" in our national discourse almost always meant material comfort and consumerism in the mould of what global media and entertainment industry pushed our way. The Amrit Kaal presents an opportunity to reassess both the material as well as the metaphysical aspects of this next stepping stage for India.

Our proposition of Atmanirbhar is still evolving. When PM Narendra Modi spoke about it the first time in May 2020, the first reactions especially from the geopolitically agnostic votaries of globalisation were cautious. As the triple shock of Covid, conflict, and climate, which has unravelled since then, there has been greater appreciation and acceptance for the need to balance a pursuit of efficiency with surefootedness of national proficiencies.

Prime Minister Modi, speaking at an event in Solapur a few days ago, remarked: "It is important to build an Atmanirbhar Bharat to build a Viksit Bharat". This will remain the defining link of our national evolution in the times to come.

Russia's war

Ref: Two years on, Ukraine puzzle gets murkier (March 5). This war, like most wars, has turned out to be unpredictable. No surprise that the West failed to anticipate the war to drag on for so long. The international community must try to find a way to end the conflict. Both Russia and Ukraine must be willing to make some compromises to put an end to the war.

Beware lawbreakers

Kudos to the Supreme Court for overturning immunity granted to lawmakers for taking bribes to make a speech or cast a vote in the legislature. The bench has rightly pointed out that "taking a bribe is an independent offence and has no connection with what is said and done, by an MP or a MLA inside the House".

It's concerning that obesity is becoming a more common issue in India. A reason is the growing preference for fast-food. High-calorie food items like pizza and burgers, almost unseen in India two decades ago, have become too common today. The government must nudge people to eat healthy.

'All Indian troops, including civilian staff, must leave'

Maldives President Mohamed Muizzu ups ante against Delhi, sets May 10 deadline

YESHI SHELI @ New Delhi

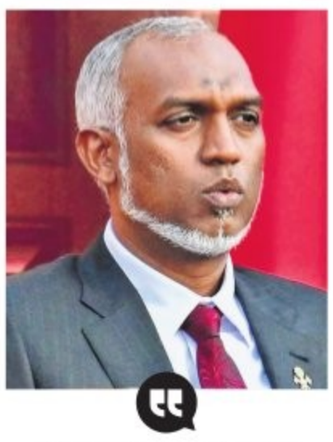
IN a significant development less than a week following the substitution of Indian military personnel with civilian staff for a helicopter service in the Maldives, President Mohamed Muizzu has intensified his critique against India. He declared that all Indian forces, including civilian staff, must exit the island nation by May 10.

During a speech to the local community on Eydhafushi Island on March 4, President Muizzu refuted claims by the opposition that India would maintain its military presence in the Maldives to project an image of normalcy between the two countries.

"This is 'absolutely false' and no country's soldiers would be deployed in the country, neither wearing uniform nor in civilian clothing," President Muizzu said, adding that no Indian soldier will be in their country beyond May 10.

President Muizzu urged Maldivians to discern the truth with their own eyes and not to succumb to hearsay.

It is noteworthy that the repatriation of Indian troops, mainly deployed for managing two Dornier aircraft and a helicopter for medical evacuations and humanitarian efforts, was a key promise in Muizzu's electoral campaign, which he vowed to accomplish within his first 100 days in office.



No country's soldiers would be deployed in the country, neither wearing uniform nor in civilian clothing

Mohamed Muizzu, Maldives President

The exact number of Indian military staff stationed in the Maldives is subject to debate, with estimates ranging from 33 to potentially over 85.

Furthermore, the third high-level meeting between India and the Maldives is anticipated to occur shortly in Male. On February 27, India dispatched a team of civilian technicians to replace the military personnel assigned to a helicopter in Addu City.

The inaugural high-level meeting between the two nations was conducted in Male on January 14, followed by a second meeting in New Delhi on February 2.

NIA raids 17 places in 7 states in prison radicalisation case

BALA CHAUHAN & MUKESH RANJAN @ Bengaluru/New Delhi

THE National Investigation Agency (NIA) on Tuesday conducted searches in 17 places across seven states in the Bengaluru prison radicalisation case, and seized a host of digital devices and incriminating documents, along with cash.

The case, relating to radicalisation of inmates in Bengaluru's Parappana Agrahara Central Prison by an LeT operative and life convict, T Nazeer, was originally registered by Bengaluru City Police in July last year, following the seizure of arms and ammunition, including seven pistols, four hand grenades, one magazine and 45 live rounds, along with four walkie-talkies.

NIA teams on Tuesday morning swooped down on the premises of suspects in various places across Karnataka, Tamil Nadu, Telangana, Kerala, Punjab, Gujarat and West Bengal. "The teams recovered 25 mobile phones, six laptops and four storage devices, besides various incriminating documents and cash, apart from currency notes of various countries," the NIA stated in an official release.

NIA has been probing the prison radicalisation case since October 25, 2023. On January 12, it had charge-sheeted eight persons, under various Sections of the IPC, UAPA, Arms Act, and the Explosive Substances Act.

The case so far

The case pertains to radicalisation of inmates in Bengaluru's Parappana Agrahara Central Prison by an LeT operative, T Nazeer. This came to light after Bengaluru Police seized arms and ammunition from the city.

BJP wants SBI to share details of electoral bonds after elections: Kharge

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

A DAY after the State Bank of India (SBI) approached the Supreme Court seeking more time to disclose details of electoral bonds, the Congress launched a broadside against the Centre alleging that "the Modi government is using SBI as a shield to hide its dubious dealings".

The SBI on Monday moved top court seeking an extension till June 30 to disclose details of each electoral bond encashed by political parties. After scrapping the electoral bond scheme last week, the SC had directed the SBI to furnish the details to the Election Commission of India (EC) by March 6.

Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge alleged that Modi government is trying to use SBI to bulldoze the Supreme Court's judgment. "No less than the Supreme Court had struck down the Modi government's 'black money conversion scheme' of electoral bonds, holding it 'unconstitutional', 'violative of RTI' and 'illegal', and asked the SBI to furnish donor details by March 6," he said.

"But the BJP wants it to be done after the Lok Sabha elections by June 30," he said, adding that the tenure of the Lok Sabha will end on June 16.

Alleging that the BJP was the main beneficiary of the "fraudulent" electoral bonds scheme, Kharge said, "Isn't the government conveniently hiding the BJP's shady dealings, where contracts of highways, ports, airports and power plants were handed over to the PM's cronies in lieu of these opaque electoral bonds? ... Experts say that the 44,434 automated data entries of donors can be divulged and matched in just 24 hours. Then why does SBI need four more months to collate this information?"

Echoing the view, Congress spokesperson Supriya Shrinate said at a press conference that the BJP has been "afraid" that its "unholy nexus with select corporates" will be exposed as soon as the information about the donors becomes public.

Shrinate questioned why the country's largest and fully computerised bank needs five months to provide information about electoral bonds when the complete information can be extracted in five minutes with one click.

SBI spent ₹1.5 crore on software to float EBs: RTI

According to information availed by RTI activist Lokesh Batra, the SBI spent ₹60,43,005 on 'IT system development for floating of electoral bonds' and ₹60,43,005 on 'IT system development'. The 'operational costs' amounted to ₹89,72,338. The net cost for floating of EBs was ₹1,50,15,338.

SC refuses early hearing plea of Didi govt on Sandeshkhali probe

There is a need for a fair and unbiased investigation, particularly due to the accused's political influence

Calcutta High Court

Procedure

The SC bench said the matter should be mentioned before the registrar general, so that it will be presented before the CJI for listing.

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY @ New Delhi

THE West Bengal government on Tuesday moved the Supreme Court challenging the Calcutta High Court order that the CBI be handed over the case of attack on Enforcement Directorate officials at Sandeshkhali and the custody of suspended TMC leader Shahjahan Sheikh.

Senior advocate Abhishek Manu Singhvi mentioned West Bengal's plea before a two-judge bench and sought an urgent hearing. The bench refused and asked Singhvi to mention the matter before the registrar general, so that it would be presented before the Chief Justice for listing.

Shahjahan was arrested by the West Bengal police on February 29 in connection with the attack. This came a day after the HC ordered that Shahjahan, also the prime accused in alleged sexual atrocities on women and land grabbing at Sandeshkhali, can be arrested by the CBI, ED or state police.

The HC bench had ordered that all documents in the case and Shahjahan's custody be handed over to the CBI.

The CBI took over the probe by registering an FIR after the HC ordered that its directions be complied with by Tuesday. However, police refused to hand over Shahjahan to the CBI team, which went to CID headquarters and returned after waiting for more than two hours.

HC slammed police for "totally biased" conduct and said attempt is being made to delay the probe.

Centre told to clarify process of empanelment of Army officers

Gender bias?

Some women officers of the Indian Army had filed petitions related to concerns about their non-empanelment for promotion to the rank of colonel by selection. They, however, made clear that they have been granted permanent commission.

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court, in its order on Tuesday, directed the Centre to clarify in the next date of hearing on March 11 the process of empanelling male and female Army officers.

A three-judge bench, led by Chief Justice DY Chandrachud, asked Attorney General R Venkataramani to file a detailed affidavit explaining the government stand.

The court was hearing petitions filed by women officers of the Indian Army related to concerns about their non-empanelment for promotion to the rank of colonel by selection. They, however, made clear that they have been granted permanent commission.

The court's instruction came after senior advocate Huzefa Ahmadi, appearing for women officers, alleged discrimination in the empanelment.

During the hearing, the Attorney General told the court that the concept of empanelment is based on comparative merit among officers of the same batch. As per the Centre's policy, the officers who had already been empanelled were not to be disturbed. But when the fresh special selection board was convened, it was necessary to benchmark the officers to be considered with empanelled officers, he said.

Ahmadi opposed this. He said that a similar exercise was not carried out for the empanelment of male officers.

The bench took into record the Attorney General's submission and fixed March 11 for further hearing.

AI TO LIVE-STREAM PM SPEECH IN 8 LANGUAGES

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

THE BJP has taken the support of Artificial Intelligence in bridging the language gap between Prime Minister Narendra Modi and his audience in non-Hindi-speaking states.

Ahead of the high-pitched Lok Sabha elections, the BJP has found AI-enabled tools to ensure the live broadcast of PM's speeches in eight regional languages.

The PM's speeches during his visits to non-Hindi-speaking states are now said to be translated in real-time into the regional languages. A party source said the high-tech arrangement dubs the PM's Hindi speech into a regional language depending on the demand.

"You might have seen how speeches or proceedings during Parliament sessions are watched in real-time in selected regional languages by lawmakers and journalists in the media gallery. This is also being done through the use of Artificial Intelligence," said a senior BJP functionary, adding that such an arrangement is giving the PM's speeches a wider and deeper reach.

Sources said the PM's speeches are now being dubbed and broadcast in Bengali, Kannada, Tamil, Telugu, Punjabi, Odia, Marathi and Malayalam during his visits to these states. "It was in 2023 when the PM first used the AI technology. His speech was translated to audience in real-time at Kashi Tamil Sangamam in Varanasi," said a source.

Political leadership spearheaded India's efforts to eliminate tuberculosis

DR LUCICA DITIU
EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR, STOP TB PARTNERSHIP

AS we navigate the winding path towards a tuberculosis-free India, it is imperative to recognise the beacon of hope emanating from the country's steadfast commitment and determination. In the labyrinth of global health challenges, tuberculosis (TB) remains a persistent foe, particularly in countries like India. Despite significant strides in medical science and public health, TB continues to exact a heavy toll on human lives and socio-economic development. However, amidst the adversities, there shine a beacon of hope. In the quest for ending TB in India, political willpower stands as the cornerstone of progress and success.

One of the primary challenges in combating TB globally has been the lack of sustained political commitment. Historically, TB has been overshadowed by other prioritised health issues, and resources allocated to its prevention, diagnosis and treatment have often been inadequate. However, in recent years, there has been a notable shift in this narrative, with political leaders increasingly recognising the gravity of the TB problem and the need for decisive action.

Political leadership serves as the catalyst for mobilising resources, galvanising stakeholders, and driving policy reforms. It sets the agenda, marshals support, and holds accountable those responsible for implementing TB control measures. Without strong political commitment, even the most well-crafted plans risk languishing on paper, leaving millions of people with TB without access to life-saving interventions.

India's Prime Minister Narendra Modi has led this shift in political commitment to end TB. In March 2018, PM Modi made a firm commitment to end TB in India by 2025, five years ahead of global SDG (sustainable development goals) targets; and from that moment, there was no looking back at the progress in TB elimination efforts in India. His vision and ambition generated incredible efforts in India and served as an example and trigger for several other leaders, Heads of State and Governments from other countries.

The launch of India's National Strategic Plan (NSP) to end TB by 2025 marked a watershed moment in the country's fight against the disease. Endorsed at the highest levels of government, the NSP outlines a comprehensive framework for TB elimination, encompassing a range of strategies from improved diagnostics and treatment to strengthened healthcare systems and increased funding.

Government stewardship and accountability, coupled with robust monitoring and evaluation mechanisms, form the cornerstone of India's TB elimination efforts. The government's resolute commitment to achieving targets, evident in the preponing of the 2030 goal to 2025, underscores its proactive approach.

The fourfold increase in programme funding reflects a clear and tangible commitment to allocate resources commensurate with the scale of the TB challenge. Notably, India's proactive stance in raising resources outside the programme demonstrates innovative strategies to bolster financial support for TB control initiatives. The country's multilevel regular evaluations, a rarity in many other nations, exemplify a commitment to transparency and continuous improvement.

The launch of India's National Strategic Plan (NSP) to end TB by 2025 marked a watershed moment in its fight against the disease. Endorsed at the highest levels of government, the NSP outlines a comprehensive framework for TB elimination, encompassing a range of strategies from improved diagnostics and treatment to strengthened healthcare systems and increased funding.

A strong coalition with civil society organisations and communities is instrumental in fostering community engagement and empowerment. India's dipanchayats underscores the importance of community-based planning and monitoring in driving local-level TB elimination efforts.

Central to India's TB elimination strategy is the protection and promotion of human rights, ethics and equity. The country's robust social support systems prioritise the rights of patients to seek care according to their preferences, fostering a diverse array of community engagement projects, including awareness campaigns and family care models, exemplify the power of grassroots mobilisation in combating TB. Initiatives such as Ni-Kshay Mitra and TB champions epitomise the pivotal role of community-driven interventions in bridging gaps in TB care delivery. The establishment of TB-free patient-centric approach to TB management. Furthermore, India's commitment to equal support for the private sector underscores a holistic approach to TB care delivery, transcending traditional divides between public and private health sectors.

India's emphasis on target-setting at various administrative levels, from national to provincial and district levels, reflects a nuanced understanding of the need for tailored approaches to TB control. The introduction of sub-national certification mechanisms incentivises local-level progress, fostering healthy competition and accountability.

Intensified research and innovation drive India's quest for TB elimination, with a focus on developing and deploying new tools and strategies. Collaborative research initiatives across sectors and ministries underscore India's commitment to leveraging multidisciplinary approaches to tackle TB.

After the severe struggle we all faced globally due to COVID pandemic, tuberculosis programmes in the countries have showed their resilience and India led the fight back to reach the all-time high number of people with TB detected and treated in 2022. In India, 2.5 million people with TB were diagnosed and treated in the year 2023; 130,000 more than the year before. In 2018, India contributed one-third of the missing 3 million people with TB in the world. That is, one million people with TB were missing from diagnosis and treatment in India. In 2023, the missing people with TB in India are 200,000 only. That is, over 80% reduction in missing people with TB due to these intense efforts. India's progress in TB control, with 16% reduction in incidence and 19% reduction in mortality, surpasses global averages, reflecting the country's unwavering dedication and concerted efforts.

In conclusion, political leadership has been the lynchpin of India's efforts to eliminate TB. As we continue on this path, let us draw inspiration from India's story of hope and determination, and redouble our efforts towards a future where TB is but a distant memory.

Rahul 'Nyay' yatra in Gujarat awaits big-ticket exodus

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @Ahmedabad

MORE than three Congress MLAs and other leaders are likely to resign from the Congress and join the BJP during Rahul Gandhi's Bharat Jodo Nyay Yatra in Gujarat, sources aware of the matter said.

Some Congress leaders claim that the BJP is orchestrating resignations to divert attention from the Nyay Yatra that will enter Gujarat on March 7 and cover 400 kilometres in seven districts in four days before crossing over to Maharashtra.

On Monday, while Gujarat Congress president Shaktisinh Gohil was giving information in Ahmedabad about Rahul Gandhi's Nay Yatra, former state party chief Arjun Modhwadia resigned as a Congress MLA. Modhwadia along with the party's former working president Ambarish Der joined the BJP on Tuesday, a day after resigning from the Congress citing dissatisfaction with the Congress's decision to boycott the Lord Ram temple consecration ceremony held in Ayodhya in January.

"More than three Congress MLAs, mostly from North Gujarat, and a former MLA and a senior powerful OBC leader may join the BJP," a Congress leader said, wishing not to be named. "These leaders are set to join the BJP during former Congress president Rahul Gandhi's Nyay Yatra in Gujarat. This is an attempt by the BJP to divert attention from the Yatra," he said.

"I have also learned that some former MLAs, MPs, city and district presidents, and senior figures from Saurashtra and South Gujarat are in contact with the BJP and will soon join," the Congress leader claimed. There was immediate reaction from the BJP to the Congress leader's claim. In the last three months, more than 10 Gujarat Congress leaders have joined the BJP. Congress's strength in the 182-member assembly has come down to 14.

CEC takes note of violence in Bengal, puts onus on police

PRANAB MONDAL @Kolkata

CHIEF election commissioner Rajiv Kumar on Tuesday said no financial irregularities would be tolerated in the upcoming Lok Sabha polls in West Bengal and asked the central agencies to rely on their own network, instead of depending on the state agencies.

The full bench of the Election Commission of India (ECI) held a meeting with the state's bureaucrats where Kumar said the director general of police would be accountable for any untoward incident during the electoral exercise. The commission suggested roping income tax and Enforcement Directorate to track and trace suspicious financial transactions in the upcoming election in Bengal.

"The districts magistrates and superintendents of police have been instructed to maintain absolutely impartiality, transparency and accessibility to all political parties equally ensuring a fair electoral process. There is no place for fear or intimidation in the upcoming elections. There is absolutely zero tolerance for any form of violence in this celebration of democracy," said Kumar.

He said a sufficient number of central forces will be deployed in Bengal. "DMs and SPs will be primarily responsible for peaceful elections."

'Decided to join BJP as it is fighting TMC's corruption'

HC judge Abhijit Gangopadhyay challenges TMC's Abhishek Banerjee

PRANAB MONDAL @Kolkata

AFTER tendering resignation on Tuesday, Calcutta High Court justice Abhijit Gangopadhyay announced that he will be joining the BJP on March 7 and the party would decide from where he would contest in the upcoming Lok Sabha elections. Slamming the TMC, Gangopadhyay said erosion has already started developing within the Bengal's ruling party and expressed his doubt whether it would exist at all before the 2026 Assembly elections in West Bengal.

"I have decided to join the BJP as it is a national party which is fighting against TMC's corruption. Prime Minister Narendra Modi is a hardworking person and tirelessly working for the development of our country," said Gangopadhyay.

Asked why did not he opt the CPM or the Congress as a political platform to join, Gangopadhyay said, "I believe in religion and god which the CPM does not. Congress is a party which has been zamindari of a family for years after years."

Throwing a challenge to Trinamool Congress's second-in-command Abhishek Banerjee, who criticised Gangopadhyay on several occasions for his verdicts, the former high court justice said, "If party asks me to contest him, will I flee? Never. He has a troop of hoodlums in his constituency Diamond Harbour. I will show how to face his henchmen. I will defeat him with a margin of lakhs."

Gangopadhyay described Narada sting operation in 2016, in which many resembling senior TMC leaders were seen taking bribes, was a conspiracy hatched by a TMC's prominent leader. "The company behind the sting operation was owned by the TMC leader's relative. The operation was carried out to malign senior TMC officers. Many of the victims of the conspiracy still call the Taalpatar Shepai (thin foot-soldier) TMC leader as a Senapati (commander) of the party. I don't know which war he has won," he said.

Hitting back the Gangopadhyay, Abhishek said, "The former justice said that he approached the BJP and the BJP approached me. If we read between the lines, it reflects his political allegiance when he was delivering his verdicts."

Congress' Pritam denies rumours of joining BJP

Amidst speculation following the BJP's candidate announcement for Tehri, rumors of former Pradesh Congress President Pritam Singh switching to the BJP have been silenced. Pritam Singh firmly stated that he had not engaged in discussions with the BJP at either the central or state level. Addressing the rumors, Pritam Singh criticized those who spread baseless controversies about his potential candidacy from the BJP for the Tehri Lok Sabha seat. Additionally, speculation within Congress suggested that Pritam Singh's defection to the BJP could position him as a candidate for Tehri, though he refutes these claims.

Amendment for a common voter list?

CURRENTLY, Part XV of the Constitution deals with elections. The new chapter will deal with issues related to "synchronised elections", "sustainability of simultaneous elections" and "common electoral roll" for the three-tier simultaneous polls.

The panel may suggest that in case a government falls due to a no-confidence vote or if there is a hung House, a "unity government" can be explored with representatives from various political parties. If the unity government formula fails, the commission may suggest holding fresh elections for the remainder of the term of the House. The panel may also propose a constitutional amendment for a common voter list.

The commission's recommendations are in tune with the 21st Law Commission report, which said that simultaneous polls would save public money, but were not possible within the existing framework of the Constitution.

The 21st Law Commission has suggested that in case of a hung Parliament or assembly, all efforts must be made by the President or Governor to install a government that will enjoy the support of the House, giving an opportunity to the largest party along with their pre-poll or post-poll alliances. Still, if no government is formed, the President may call an all-party meet to end the stalemate. If the above two options fail, mid-term polls should be called, the report said.

Sources said that the panel may suggest that the assembly and local body elections should be carried out in two cycles between 2024 and 2029 to achieve synchronised polls.

On Maha turf, Shah hits out at 'dynastic politics' of Oppn

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @Mumbai

Union Home Minister Amit Shah on Tuesday hit out at the Opposition over dynastic politics and appealed to the youth to vote for PM Narendra Modi to ensure his third term.

Shah is touring Maharashtra for two days in a bid to resolve differences among NDA alliance partners over sharing Lok Sabha seats. Chief Minister Eknath Shinde, who heads his faction of Shiv Sena, has demanded 22 seats while BJP's Deputy Chief Minister Ajit Pawar has asked for 18 seats against BJP's offer of 11 and four seats respectively.

Shah addressed a rally in Akola and participated in a local programme in Sambhaji Nagar. On Wednesday, he will have a meeting with NDA partners in Mumbai.

The Union Home Minister said the youth should take an active part in the elections for their bright future. "Sonia Gandhi wants to make Rahul Gandhi prime minister, Uddhav Thackeray is working to make his son Aaditya chief minister and Sharad Pawar also wants to make his daughter Supriya Sule the CM," he said.

"Opposition leaders are working for their children's future while Modi is working for your future," Shah told the youth. He said during the Congress rule, India's economy stood at 11th spot globally, but Modi in the last decade has brought it to the fifth place.

SAD factions join hands, may enter into alliance with BJP ahead of polls

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

A 'ghar wapsi' in Punjab: The Shiromani Akali Dal (Sanyukat) led by Sukhdev Singh Dhindsa has merged into SAD led by Sukhbir Singh Badal.

The SAD chief appealed to Dhindsa to take on responsibility as a SAD patron since he was the senior-most Akali leader after the passing away of Parkash Singh Badal. The merger appears to have brightened the prospects of a SAD-BJP tie-up once again.

Dhindsa said the merger meant joint responsibility to enable Punjab to get back on the rails, adding it was the result of an overwhelming feeling among leaders belonging to both sides to unite the Panth (community).

"Moreover, the party felt that Sukhbir Badal has already expressed remorse for the cases of sacrilege that occurred in 2015. I called a meeting of the party's district presidents on Monday which gave the go-ahead for the merger," he said.

The SAD chief visited Dhindsa's residence, calling the move as a "merger of two families." He said Dhindsa was among those who built SAD along with Parkash Singh Badal.

He also assured the Dhindsa group of respect and honour. He welcomed former finance minister Parminder Singh Dhindsa into the party fold on the occasion while appreciating the leader's contribution to Punjab.

When asked whether SAD would be back in an alliance with BJP, Badal tried to be evasive. "Our alliance with BSP is continuing, I read only in the media that we are tying up with BJP, please do not worry about us."

Badal also appealed to all SAD leaders who had left the party to rejoin, saying "SAD alone is capable of safeguarding the aspirations of Punjabis. I am ready to apologize to everyone (over the sacrilege incidents)."

Yogi expands cabinet, inducts Rajbhar among 4

NAMITA BAJPAI @Lucknow

IN the first expansion of Yogi cabinet since 2022 ahead of the Lok Sabha polls, four new ministers, including Suheldev Bharatiya Samaj Party (SBSP) chief Om Prakash Rajbhar, BJP MLC Dara Singh Chauhan, RLD MLA from Purkazi Anil Kumar and BJP's Sahibabad MLA Sunil Sharma, were administered the oath of office and secrecy here on Tuesday.

With this, the number of ministers in the Yogi government has risen to 57. The much-awaited expansion of Yogi cabinet came through as mutually agreed pre-conditions with allies like SBSP and RLD who have been inducted into NDA recently with an intent to firm up the position of the ruling alliance in UP, one of the most significant states of the country, when the Lok Sabha election is knocking at the door.

OP Rajbhar-led SBSP rejoined the NDA last year after quitting the alliance with Samajwadi Party with whom Rajbhar had contested the 2022 state assembly elections. OP Rajbhar has a commendable grip over Rajbhar community which is 12-22 per cent across two dozen seats of eastern UP.

Each constituency has 50,000 to 2.5 lakh voter of Rajbhar community. So is the case of BJP MLC Dara Singh Chauhan, who resigned from state assembly and SP in July, last year to re-join the BJP. During his previous stint with the ruling party, Chauhan had been UP Cabinet Minister for Forests, Environment and Animal Husbandry between 2017 and 2022.

He had resigned from the BJP in January 2022, before the state's Assembly polls, alleging discrimination by the BJP government against the backward classes, Dalits and youths. He joined the SP and got elected as an MLA from Ghosi in 2022.

BJP fielded Dara Singh Chauhan in the bypoll of Ghosi necessitated due to his resignation but Chauhan lost the seat to SP's Sudhakar Singh. However, the BJP sent Chauhan to Council.

Similarly, Anil Kumar, the three-time RLD MLA from Purqazi in Muzaffarnagar district belongs to scheduled caste. Believed to be close to RLD chief Jayant Chaudhary, sources in the Jat party RLD claim that Anil Kumar's induction in Yogi cabinet will shore up the prospects of NDA in western UP.

However, the surprise entry into the Yogi cabinet happens to be that of Sunil Sharma, the BJP MLA from Sahibabad assembly constituency in Ghaziabad. Sahibabad happens to be the biggest constituency in the state with over 10 lakh voters. Sharma, a third time MLA from Ghaziabad broke his own record to also defeat his nearest rival SP-RLD combine candidate Amarpal Sharma by record margin of over 2.6 lakh votes in 2022 assembly polls.

PM to visit Azamgarh

Considered to be the gateway to eastern UP with 10 assembly segments, Azamgarh is the upcoming destination of PM Narendra Modi who is likely to visit the Samajwadi Party (SP) bastion on Sunday, March 10. Apart from addressing a public meeting, Modi is also expected to inaugurate the Manduri airport in Azamgarh, part of Yogi 2.0's regional connectivity scheme. He may also inaugurate the Maharaja Suheldev University in the district

UN finds evidence of sexual violence during Oct 7 Hamas attack

UN team found 'reasonable grounds' for the sexual assaults after conducting interviews with survivors and witnesses, Hamas says findings are 'false claims'

JERUSALEM

A UNITED Nations report has found credible allegations that sexual assaults took place during the October 7 Hamas attack on southern Israel. A team led by the UN special envoy for sexual violence in conflict, Pramila Patten, found 'reasonable grounds' to believe Hamas committed rape and 'sexualised torture'. Patten presented the report on Monday at the United Nations.

The UN team did not meet with any victims of sexual violence 'despite concerted efforts to encourage them to come forward', and Patten said much of the evidence was circumstantial. The team conducted interviews with survivors and witnesses of the October 7 attacks, released hostages, health providers and others, Patten said.

The report comes nearly five months after the October 7 attacks, which left about 1,200 people dead and some 250 others taken hostage. Israel's war against Hamas has since laid waste to the Gaza Strip, killing more than 30,000 people, according to Gaza's health ministry. The UN says a quarter of Gaza's 2.3 million population faces starvation.

A top member of Israel's wartime Cabinet is meeting with UN officials in Washington while talks are underway in Egypt to broker a cease-fire in Gaza before the Muslim holy month of Ramadan begins next week.

Hamas rejects UN report

Hamas on Tuesday rejected the UN report claiming Palestinian militants committed "sexual violence" during their attack on Israel on October 7, saying the findings were simply "false claims".

The report by the UN special representative on sexual violence in conflict, Pramila Patten, "did not document any testimony from what she calls the victims of these cases," Hamas said in a statement.

"She relied on Israeli institutions, soldiers and witnesses, who were chosen by the occupation authorities to push towards an attempt to prove this false accusation, which was refuted by all investigations."

The assaults took place in at least three separate locations, and "in most of these incidents, victims first subjected to rape were then killed, and at least two incidents relate to the rape of women's corpses", the report said.

The Hamas attack resulted in about 1,160 deaths in Israel, most of them civilians, while Israel's retaliatory offensive in Gaza has killed at least 30,631 people, mostly women and children, according to Hamas-run Gaza's health ministry. Agencies

Gaza's starving children should be 'an alarm': UN

GENEVA: The United Nations on Tuesday called on the international community to "flood" Gaza with aid amid reports that children are dying of starvation in the war-torn territory. "With children starting ... to die from starvation, that should be an alarm like no other," Jens Laerke, spokesman for the UN humanitarian agency, told reporters in Geneva.The World Health Organization reported "grim" findings and scenes of starving children after reaching two northern hospitals with aid last weekend for the first time since October. The Hamas-run health ministry in Gaza said up to 15 children have died from starvation and dehydration with others ailing and humanitarian agencies say the territory faces a dire food crisis.

BIDEN: 'VERY DANGEROUS' IF NO GAZA CEASEFIRE BY RAMADAN

Hagerstown: US President Joe Biden warned onTuesday of a "very, very dangerous" situation if Israel and Hamas fail to reach a Gaza ceasefire by the Muslim holy month of Ramadan. Biden added that it was up to Hamas whether to accept an offer for a six-week truce, while warning Israel there were "no excuses" for failing to allow aid into the Palestinian territory.

ISRAEL-GAZA: DAY 149

GAZA TOLL SO FAR
30,631

- American cargo planes airdropped more than 36,000 meals to Gaza on Tuesday in a joint operation with Jordan, the US military said, as the international community scrambles to curb a growing humanitarian crisis there
- An estimated 8,000 patients need evacuating out of the Gaza Strip, the World Health Organization said on Tuesday, voicing frustration that few have so far been transferred outside the besieged territory. The WHO said moving such patients out of Gaza would relieve some of the strain on the medics and hospitals that are struggling to keep functioning in a war zone

Israel airstrike kills 17 in Khan Younis

RAFAH: Palestinian officials say an Israeli airstrike has killed at least 17 people in the southern Gaza city of Khan Younis. First responders with the Civil Defence circulated video footage of rescuers pulling dead and wounded people from the rubble of a house.The military said in a statement on Tuesday that it was carrying out targeted raids on militant infrastructure in Khan Younis while trying to evacuate civilians from the area. TREATMENT FOR PROBLEMS DUE TO AIR POLLUTION

Thailand must do more to tackle air pollution, a government agency has warned, saying over 10 million people required treatment for pollution-related health problems in 2023. The kingdom's cities often rank among the worst in the world for PM 2.5 particles during the early months of the year thanks to farmers burning stubble and exhaust fumes. Data from the health ministry show that since the start of 2024, some 1.6 million people have needed treatment for problems linked to air pollution. It includes people with conditions like chronic bronchitis, lung cancer, asthma, and heart diseases.

PM DEFENDS EXCLUSIVE DEAL WITH TAYLOR SWIFT

Singapore's Prime Minister Lee Hsien Loong on Tuesday defended an exclusive deal his city-state struck with Taylor Swift that prevents the pop star taking her current Eras Tour to anywhere else in Southeast Asia. The move has been criticised by some neighbours who complain they have been deprived of the tourist boom that her concerts have brought. Lee confirmed that Swift was provided with 'certain incentives' from a government fund established to rebuild tourism industry after COVID-19 disruptions. "I don't see that as being unfriendly," Lee said in the Australian city of Melbourne where he is attending an ASEAN leaders' summit. AP

RBI asks JM Fin to stop lending against shares, debentures

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

THE Reserve Bank of India has directed JM Financial Products Ltd (JMFPL) to stop any form of financing against shares and debentures with immediate effect. This crackdown includes the sanction and disbursal of loans against the initial public offer (IPO) of shares, as well as against subscriptions to debentures.

"The RBI has today, in exercise of its powers under section 45L(1)(b) of the Reserve Bank of India Act, 1934, directed JM Financial Products (JMFPL or 'the company') to cease and desist, with immediate effect, from doing financing against shares and debentures, including sanction and disbursal of loans against IPO of shares as well as against subscription to debentures," RBI said on Tuesday.

JMFPL, however, is allowed to continue to service its existing loan accounts through usual collection and recovery process. The RBI said the action is necessitated due to certain serious deficiencies observed with respect to loans sanctioned by the company for IPO financing as well as NCD subscriptions. The RBI carried out a limited review of the books of the company on the basis of the information shared by the capital market regulator SEBI.

In the review, RBI observed JMFPL repeatedly helped a group of its customers to bid for various IPO and NCD offerings by using loaned funds.

The credit underwriting was found to be perfunctory, and financing was done against meagre margins. The application for subscription, demat accounts and the bank accounts, all were operated by the company using a power of attorney (POA) and a master agreement obtained from these customers without their involvement, whatsoever, in subsequent operations. Consequently, the company was able to act as both lender and borrower. It also acted as the arranger of bank account opening as well as operator of the said bank accounts using POA," RBI said.

When contacted, it couldn't elicit a responses from JM Financial. "Misuse of funds for IPO financing is rampant, and this issue has been highlighted for 5-7 years now. The RBI has, of late, become strict with any form of non-compliance. They must have found serious lapses in the way things have been done by JM Financial and acted accordingly," Says S Ravi, former Chairman of BSE, founder and managing partner of Ravi Ranjan and Co LLP.

Google temporarily restores listing of apps

Tech giant, start-ups will try and find out long-term solutions through discussions, says Ashwini Vaishnaw

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

GOOGLE has agreed to restore the listing of all apps to their status as of March 1, 2024, said Minister of Electronics and Information Technology Ashwini Vaishnaw on Tuesday.

The minister expressed hope that start-ups and Google will reach a long-term solution following a meeting with representatives from both parties.

"Google and start-up companies have met with us. We had very constructive discussions and finally, Google has agreed to restore all the apps to their Friday morning (March 1) status. Google has been supporting our technology development journey and we believe that in the coming months, both start-up companies and Google will come to a long-term resolution," said the minister.

Meanwhile, Google in a statement said the company is temporarily reinstating the apps as the appeal is pending in the Supreme Court. It categorically mentioned that Google maintains its right to implement and enforce its business model.

To invoice full services fees

- Google says temporarily reinstating apps as appeal is pending in Supreme Court
- Google says it maintains its right to implement and enforce its business models
- Earlier it delisted over 250 apps from 10 Indian developers from Play Store
- Will invoice full services fees in payment timelines for these firms

"In the spirit of cooperation, we are temporarily reinstating the apps of the developers with appeals pending in the Supreme Court. Google maintains its right to implement and enforce its business model, as established in various courts. We will invoice our full applicable services fees in the interim and are extending payment timelines for these companies. We look forward to a collaborative effort to find solutions that respect the needs of all parties," said spokesperson of Google.

On 1 March 2024, American technology giant Google delisted over 250 apps from 10 Indian app developers from its Play Store. In a blog post, the company mentioned that these developers were not complying with its payment policy. However, the developers are currently challenging this policy in the Madras High Court and Supreme Court. Some of the delisted apps included Shaadi, Matrimony.com, Bharat Matrimony, ALTBalaji (formerly ALT), audio platform Kuku FM, dating service Quack-Quack, and others. Google later began restoring these apps as some developers agreed to its payment terms. Then, on Monday, executives from affected companies, including Matrimony.com (Bharat Matrimony), Info Edge (Naukri.com), People Interactive (Shaadi.com), QuackQuack, and Truly Madly, met separately with Ashwini Vaishnaw and Rajeev Chandrasekhar, the Minister of State for Electronics and Information Technology.

The app developers, in a meeting with the government, urged them to intervene and restore their apps on the Play Store.

Bloomberg Index to include Indian govt bonds

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

BLOOMBERG on Monday announced that it will include Indian government bonds under fully accessible route (FAR) in the Bloomberg Emerging Market (EM) Local Currency Government Index and related indices beginning January 31, 2025.

Indian FAR bonds will be included in Bloomberg indices with an initial weight of 10% of their full market value on 31 January 2025. "The weight of bonds will be increased in increments of 10% of their full market value every month over the ten-month period ending in October 2025, at which point they will be weighted at their full market value in the indices," Bloomberg said in a statement.

According to experts, the inclusion of Indian government bonds would result in $2-3 billion foreign fund inflows in the Indian bond market. The announcement comes six months after JP Morgan announced the inclusion of Indian government bonds in its GBI-EM Global index. The inclusion of Indian government bonds in the JP Morgan bond index could result in inflows of $25 billion into India.

Once completely phased into the Bloomberg Emerging Market 10% Country Capped Index, India is likely to join both China and South Korea as markets that reach the 10% cap.

Within the market cap weighted version of the index, India is expected to be the third largest country after China and South Korea. Using data as of 31 January 2024, the index would include 34 Indian securities and represent 7.26% of a $6.18 trillion index on a market value weighted basis.

The indices in scope for inclusion include the Bloomberg EM Local Currency Government Index, the Bloomberg EM Local Currency Government Index 10% Country Capped Index, and all related sub-indices.

"Bloomberg Indices will create an ex-India version of the EM Local Currency Government Index and can also create other standard and custom versions of the index," according to the statement issued by Bloomberg.

FSSAI clean chit to McDonald's cheese: Westlife

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Chennai

Westlife Foodworld Limited, company which operates McDonald's restaurant chains, said the Food Safety and Standards Authority of India (FSSAI) has given clean chit to the cheese used by it.

FSSAI, under the Union Ministry of Health and Family Welfare, has verified the cheese used by McDonald's India as '100% Real Cheese' and decided to use the word "cheese" in products containing cheese, it informed in exchange filings on Tuesday.

This comes after McDonald's India removed cheese from the menu across Maharashtra last month after its run-in with the state food and drug administration (FDA). The regulatory body briefly suspended the licence of its franchise in a Mumbai outlet and there are reports of the company using products made using cheese analogues- blending non-dairy fats like vegetable oil to produce cheese like products.

"Articles in question contain Cheese or cheese product as a part of composition and doesn't contain analogue in dairy context in any form", the company said. This is a clean chit McDonald's India's commitment to upholding stringent food quality standards across its restaurants, at all times, it said on Tuesday. The company said it is sourcing authentic ingredients from globally recognised and approved suppliers and has a stringent and mandatory process testing policy.

Saurabh Kalra, MD of McDonald's India (W&S), said the clean chit from FSSAI affirms that our products contain 100% real cheese sourced from globally renowned suppliers.

$533 million funds currently in 100% non-US subsidiary, says Byju's

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

THE troubled edtech firm Byju's on Tuesday said $533 million funds are currently in a 100% non-US subsidiary of the firm and that Camshaft is no longer managing the funds.

As the focus is now on these funds that are part of the $1.2 billion Term Loan B (TLB), the company said Byju's Alpha was never an operating company and its sole role was to receive the funds and then disburse them through the group. The edtech firm had taken a loan from certain US-based lenders in November 2021 and for that purpose an SPV named Byju's Alpha was incorporated in Delaware.

The funds were under the management of Camshaft founder William Morton. He has been under the spotlight and questions are now being raised about these funds.

Byju's Alpha initially appointed Camshaft to manage its funds. The firm said there are no covenants in the loan agreement requiring cash or other collateral to be held by Byju's Alpha at any point of time.

In early 2023, the funds were transferred from Byju's Alpha to Inspilearn, another US-based fully owned subsidiary of Byju's. Inspilearn, thereafter, transferred those funds from Camshaft to a non-US based fund.

Recently, those funds have been transferred from Inspilearn to a non-US based 100% subsidiary of Byju's. Earlier this week, Camshaft, in its disclosure to the Delaware bankruptcy court, confirmed that the money was transferred to a 100% subsidiary of Byju's. Meanwhile, Byju's investors have filed caveats in the Supreme Court with the request to be heard before the court decides on a plea likely to be filed against a NCLT order.

Last week, the National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT) reserved judgment on interim orders in the plea filed by four investors against the edtech company. Even after raising $200 million, Byju's is struggling to pay salaries to its employees as the NCLT directed the firm to keep funds received from the rights issue in a separate escrow account.

The NCLT had observed that the Byju's board cannot increase authorised share capital on its own and it directed that they cannot complete the rights issue until they call for an EGM (extraordinary general meeting) to increase authorised capital and take shareholder approval before proceeding for rights issue.

Tata Power targets domestic solar projects, to offer easy loans

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Chennai

TATA POWER SOLAR SYSTEMS LIMITED (TPSSL) has expanded tie-ups to finance unsecured loans for residential solar projects along with commercial and industrial projects. TPSSL has extended the loan limits of up to ₹15 lakh for residential and ₹16 crore for commercial and industrial customers, the company said in exchange filings on Tuesday.

It provides 80% of residential and 85% of the commercial categories in partnership with Union Bank of India (UBI). Both the categories will have access to collateral-free financing options and the loan tenure has also been extended up to 10 years. This will help households and businesses access solar energy and give ample time for repayment. This renewed three-year agreement includes both residential and C&I segments as against the earlier one which focused only on C&I.

Deepesh Nanda, CEO and Managing Director of Tata Power Renewable Energy Limited said, "We believe that the access to easy financing will mainstream the roof-top solar adoption among the residential segment in the country and replicate the success of the C&I segment as witnessed in our first phase of association."

CHINA

RETAINS 5% GROWTH TARGET FOR 2024

China has fixed a modest official growth target of around 5% this year with a pledge to create 12 million jobs amid growing concerns over rising unemployment as the country grapples with economic slowdown and dwindling business sentiment. The country expects to create over 12 million jobs in urban areas and keep the surveyed urban unemployment rate at about 5.5% this year, Chinese Premier Li Qiang said in his work report presented to the opening session of the country's rubber-stamp parliament, the National People's Congress (NPC). The week-long NPC annual session was attended among others by Chinese President Xi Jinping besides over two thousand delegates from across the country to deliberate and legislate on key initiatives needed to strengthen the growth of the second-largest economy, which continued with post COVID-19 slowdown. A proactive fiscal policy and a prudent monetary policy will be continued, Li said in his 39-page work report.

JAPAN

SEEING SIGNS OF POSITIVE WAGE MOMENTUM

Japan is seeing early signs of achieving a positive cycle of rising inflation and wages, said Deputy Chief Cabinet Secretary Hideki Murai on Tuesday (March 5). He stressed that the government's focus is on broadening pay increases beyond big companies. The government is making efforts to change the country's long-held practice in which big companies use their huge bargaining power to pressure smaller suppliers into accepting price cuts. The government, in its guidance released in November, required companies to have executives take more ownership in the price-setting procedures, and clarified for the first time the chance of sanctioning firms that put undue pressure on suppliers to cut prices. It underscores the focus of Prime Minister Fumio Kishida on boosting profits of smaller firms, which they can then use to hike wages. The government has made achievement of broad-based wage hikes a top priority as rising inflation pushes up households' cost of living.

PHILIPPINES

FEB INFLATION QUICKENS TO 3.4%

The inflation in the Philippine accelerated for the first time in five months in February due to increase in food and transport costs. The consumer price index (CPI) increased 3.4% year-on-year in February, the statistics agency said on Tuesday. The inflation level was above the previous month's 2.8%, but still within the central bank's 2-4% target for the year. The main factor behind the uptick in inflation in February was rise in prices of rice, which accelerated to 23.7% from last year, the fastest in 15 years, in a move blamed on base effects and elevated rice prices in the world market. Core inflation, which strips out volatile food and energy items in the consumer basket, eased to 3.6% versus the previous month's 3.8%. The central bank last month kept its benchmark rate steady at 6.50% for a third straight meeting, expecting inflation to settle within target this year. It will meet again to review policy on April 4.

Sharma wants to make Paytm an Asia leader

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

VIJAY SHEKHAR SHARMA, the founder and CEO of fintech firm Paytm, on Thursday said he wants to make Paytm a market leader in Asia.

"Asia has an opportunity to build a financial system for the next generation... Make Paytm an Asia leader — in my lifetime, I would like to do that," said Sharma at a conference in Tokyo. This was Sharma's first public appearance following the RBI clampdown on Paytm Payments Bank in January. In February, he stepped down from the board of Paytm Payments Bank.

> Asia has an opportunity to build a financial system for the next generation... Make Paytm an Asia leader — in my lifetime, I would like to do that
>
> Vijay S Sharma, founder & CEO, Paytm

Despite facing regulatory challenges in home country for the past few years now, Sharma remains optimistic about the future of his fintech company. He said it is important to address challenges personally rather than relying on advice from teammates or advisors.

"The biggest thing that I've learned is that many times your teammate and adviser may not be getting it correct. And it is important for you, yourself to be taking care of it versus just letting a teammate or an adviser suggest that what should it be," said Sharma as quoted in a report.

Sharma outlined strategies to navigate the challenges, including forging new bank partnerships and expanding into other Asian markets. In late January, RBI barred Paytm Payments Bank from taking new or top-up deposits in any customer accounts, prepaid instruments, wallets, FASTags, NCMC cards, etc. after February 29, 2024 owing to non-compliance.

Consumers now prefer 3BHK over 2BHK: Survey

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

DESPITE a sharp increase in property prices, more consumers are willing to buy bigger and more expensive apartments. According to the FICCI-Anarock Consumer Sentiment Survey (H2 CY2023) released on Tuesday, 50% of Indians now prefer a 3BHK home as against 37% of people who want to buy a 2BHK.

In the second half of CY2022, the preference for 2BHK at 45% was greater than 3BHK (42% in H2CY2022). The survey noted that 3BHKs are particularly in vogue in Bengaluru, Chennai, Hyderabad, and Delhi-NCR. In the hyper-pricey Mumbai market, 44% of respondents preferred 2BHKs.

While preference for 4BHKs & above units has grown from 4% in H2 CY2024 to 6% in H2 CY2023, it has for 1BHKs – from 9% to 7%, the survey conducted between July to December 2023 with approx. 5,510 online respondents.

According to the survey results, even while the budget range of Rs 45 lakh to Rs 90 lakh remained the most favourable budget for over 33% of prospective homebuyers, premium and luxury homes are gaining traction. At least 26% of respondents now prefer homes in the range of Rs 90 lakh to ₹1.5 crore. The demand for luxury homes priced above ₹1.5 crore has also gained more traction. At least 20% of the H2 2023 survey respondents prefer to buy homes in this price bracket, against 12% in H2 2021.

The survey further highlighted that real estate as the best asset class option has seen a 3% decline compared to the previous survey.

Over 57% of respondents now consider real estate as the best investment option, followed by the stock market which is favoured by 29% in the current situation. On an annual basis, housing prices in the last one year rose between 10% and 24% across the top 7 cities.

Anuj Puri, Chairman - ANAROCK Group, says, "ANAROCK data indicates that average flat sizes in the top 7 cities grew by 11% annually last year – from 1,175 sq. ft. in 2022 to 1,300 sq. ft. in 2023. The survey also finds that for the first time, the demand for ready-to-move homes is lower than new launches."

Dhoni lands in Chennai ahead of IPL 2024

Chennai Super Kings skipper Mahendra Singh Dhoni landed in Chennai on Tuesday ahead of the Indian Premier League season. The defending champions posted a picture of Dhoni, who led them to their fifth title last season, exiting a vehicle on social media, captioning it "#THA7A Dharisanam!" Speculation is rife that this season will be Dhoni's final one as a player.

Off spinner, on the verge of a special milestone, reflects on the sacrifices his familiy has made over the last decade

ASHWIN IN HIS OWN WORDS

GOMESH S @ Dharamsala

THE year was 2007.

Tamil Nadu were playing Karnataka at the Port Trust Golden Jubilee Stadium, Visakhapatnam in a U-22 Col. CK Nayudu Trophy match. Karnataka needed 80 runs on the final day. R Ashwin, at that point, was still a middle-order batter dabbling with some off-spin. He had bowled 55.4 overs in the first innings to take five wickets. On the final day, despite the small target, he was not ready to let go. He bowled 9.3 overs for four wickets — CM Gautam, R Jonathan, G Dhiman and AA Verma — making Karnataka work for runs.

While they would eventually get across the line with five wickets to spare, on that evening, Ashwin was in a share auto with his teammate KB Arun Karthik, taking a ride along the Vizag beach. "I was telling him 'macha (buddy), I think you will play for India soon. This spell, not many will know but the way you bowled your heart out, it could have been easy to let go, but the way you fought, the attitude to try and win come what may... that will take you to Indian team'. Ashwin seemingly said, 'If I play for India, my first treat is for you, macha'." It maybe 17 years removed from that moment but Arun Karthik still remembers it like yesterday. "I'm still waiting for my treat," he laughs. On Thursday, when the fifth and final Test against England begins, R Ashwin will feature in his 100th Test. He will be only the 14th Indian and first from Tamil Nadu to get to the milestone. While Arun Karthik may still be waiting for his treat, watching Ashwin evolve into one of India's greatest red-ball match winners has been a treat in itself. On Tuesday, having arrived at the HPCA Stadium on the foothills of the Dhauladhar range, the 37-year-old took a lap around the ground before coming for a media interaction. He was sitting there answering questions about a milestone he would have never imagined when he took to off-spin.

He understood its significance and spoke about about the journey being bigger than the destination. He also mentioned the "psychic in him" who keeps him in an uncomfortable space with a constant need to find solutions. Ask him what it meant to be the first cricketer from his state to achieve this milestone and he said that it was an experience that he would want to share with many more who come from his part of the country.

It was only when the conversation turned towards his family that Ashwin paused. "This 100th Test match means at least 10 to 100-times more to my dad than it does to me," he said. "It probably means to a lot more to my wife than it does to me and my mom. In fact, my daughters are more excited about this game than I am frankly. It's just another number and I think I have reiterated it again and again. I am not saying it is not a great feat. For different purposes, for where I come from, what I've done and how it can be a changing point for my state, I think it is a great achievement. Beyond that, I think playing Test matches for such a long time and even playing Indian cricket for a long time and being on the road, the kind of sacrifices the family needs to make is enormous. There is a lot more emphasis on the value that the family brings to the table in countries beyond India. I think it still doesn't dawn upon us.

"When families tour abroad, I think people get the feeling that they're on a holiday. It actually isn't. You're booted up inside a hotel room. Once you lose, you don't feel like going down for dinner, you're ordering in all the time, and it's hard work. The kind of mental agony that they go through is phenomenal. My father feels obliged to pick up 40 calls and answer why his son wasn't the greatest on a particular day, (it) can be extremely cruel. I've told him over the years that you're not obliged to answer to anybody. Even now, my dad watches the game like he watches the first Test match I played. He's had a heart failure, he's gone to the hospital twice, my mom's again been to the hospital. I don't know for what joy they're doing it but they continue doing it and it is a wonderful story. Every household has these stories, you see many more people coming through from different hamlets of the country. Just because they hail from a country with a billion people, doesn't mean their journeys and families should mean lesser."

Through the conversation, one theme remained. Gratitude. Ashwin acknowledged how grateful he was. He also underlined the importance of being at the right place at the right time to represent the country.

Perseverance is the mantra

Arun Karthik, meanwhile, stressed upon the magnitude of what Ashwin has achieved. "He is not the most naturally gifted physically. But he persevered through the ups and downs, criticisms, he never gave up. That is the one word I will say about him. The way he thinks about the game is just ahead of its time. He is like the Kamal Hassan of Indian cricket," says Arun Karthik. He remembers frustrating conversations the duo had while warming the bench in the 2009 IPL, how Ashwin would talk about what he would have done in a certain situation to win the match. "In the second half of 2010 season, when he got the chance, Ashwin showed everything we spoke about. I was there listening to all he said and then witnessed him go and do it the next year, helping Chennai Super Kings win the title. I think we will only understand what he has done to inspire a generation of cricketers years down the line."

Beneath everything that has brought Ashwin thus far remains the one constant; his love for the game. "Give him the ball and he will just keep bowling at a stick. He will go to the beach and join whoever is playing. He used to conduct underarm tournaments in his neighbourhood when we were very young. He just eats, sleeps and breathes cricket. Winning and losing is secondary, he just wants to play. This is what he likes, this is what he loves. That is why he is able to play as long as he has," says Arun Karthik.

MILESTONE MAN

Look, not a lot of teams around the world have what India has. The person who is taking my place is Ravindra Jadeja. He's been batting pretty well, as you see his averages with the bat. I think that's where he outscored me in those games. The team believes that he's been batting pretty well and bowling might not be that much of a factor because of the pitches we might play on in England and sometimes in SA. Yeah, so I'd say I'd make peace with that.

— Ashwin on being left out on overseas games

It is an experience that I would like to share with many more that come from my part of the country. There's a lot of talent out there. Make no mistake about the ability that those people had in the past or those that will play in the future. I really wish and hope that many more come from there and go on to achieve even better things than I have.

— On being first from TN to scale the peak

For me, if you looked internally, you can improve at least by another 5%. Until and unless there is something wrong with you, people aren't going to throw punches at you or point fingers at you. When I looked back at it, I knew what I had to correct. Ever since, it's been about addressing downs and troubleshooting for all the questions thrown at me. Some of the questions I raised myself mostly and largely and like I said, that's probably been a motivating factor for me over the years to reflect on the downs and work on them.

FACING SANCTION

Whereabouts failures for top para shuttler?

INDRANEEL DAS @ Chennai

IN what could turn into another embarrassing moment in Indian sport, months ahead of the Paralympics, one of country's prominent para-badminton players has apparently been facing sanctions over whereabouts failure. It is understood that the matter was taken to the Court of Arbitration for Sports (CAS) over three whereabouts failures in 2022 and the matter was pursued by the World Badminton Federation (BWF). The para-athlete, a Paralympic medallist, apparently missed two tests and one filing failure in last quarter, 2022. The player was not provisionally suspended.

According to BWF anti-doping rule, "2.4 Whereabouts Failures by an Athlete Any combination of three (3) missed tests and/or filing failures, as defined in the International Standard for Results Management, within a twelve (12) month period by an Athlete in a Registered Testing Pool."

The BWF had apparently informed the player and recorded the three as whereabouts failure in a year. According to World Anti-Doping Agency (WADA), "Athletes commit a missed test whereabouts failure if they are not available to be tested during their 60-minute designated testing window when a doping control officer comes to test them."

Though there were indications that the CAS has ruled in favour of world badminton body (BWF) and upheld its decision to penalise the player, sources in the know said it is not a final decision and the player can appeal. The BWF has apparently sought a two-year ban as stipulated in their ADR.

If sanctions are upheld or pronounced, this could be another high-profile whereabouts failure by an athlete after quarter-miler turned sprinter Hima Das, wrestler Pooja Dhanda. The WADA's Operation Carousel had already flagged India's whereabouts inadequacy. "These interviews revealed, inter alia, that the supervision of Whereabouts was inadequate, that there was a lack of sufficient testing, and that NADA (National Anti-Doping Agency's) did not have an effective intelligence or investigative capability," WADA had said in its report.

Thanks to their efforts, DC racked up a 192 for 4 in their 20 overs. In reply, Mumbai finished with 163/8. Amanjot Kaur was the top scorer (42 off 27) for Mumbai. Brief scores: Delhi Capitals 192/4 in 20 ovs (Rodrigues 69 n.o, Lanning 53) bt Mumbai Indians 163/8 in 20 ovs (Amanjot 42, Hayley 29; Jonassen 3/21).

Favourites look to seal deal

Perennial winners, Real Madrid, and defending champions, Man City, hold big advantages as two more Champions League last 16 matches kick-off. A look at a couple of Wednesday night ties....

REAL MADRID VS RB LEIPZIG

FIRST LEG: RB LEIPZIG 0-1 REAL MADRID

The Spaniards have won each of their seven matches in Europe this season and look in pole position to make it eight out of eight. They ran into some trouble at the weekend at Valencia but don't expect that to trouble their vision. The Bundesliga outfit do have it in them to score freely but they have been very inconsistent this season and will need a mini miracle to stay competitive.

Real are on an eight-match unbeaten run in all competitions

MAN CITY VS COPENHAGEN

FIRST LEG: COPENGAHEN 1-3 MAN CITY

The holders will seek to manage this one out because of the challenge over the weekend — a meeting with Liverpool in the Premier League. They hold a big enough advantage to do that. So expect the big-hitters to either be subbed early or be on the bench as an insurance policy. The Danes, who qualified at the expense of both Galatasaray and Man United, are not in the greatest of nicks at the moment.

With vintage songs & familiar weather, Eng players feel at home

England's Jonny Bairstow attends a press conference in Dharamsala on Tuesday. The veteran batter will be playing his 100th Test | AFP

GOMESH S @ Dharamsala

AS 'Livin' on a prayer' by Bon Jovi goes off on the speaker at one of the the practice facilities of the HPCA Stadium, England coach Brendon McCullum goes 'woah, another classic'. It's been that kind of a day for England. They are here at the venue in the morning, wearing sweatshirts and pullovers as they would do on a cold England morning.

They have hit the nets and are warming up to get into the groove — the mood on the speakers, understandably, is full throttle. The playlists include songs by Guns N' Roses, The Killers, AC/DC, and Lynyrd Skynyrd. Just when Free Bird by the latter is on, Jonny Bairstow seems to be having a ball. Bairstow, who would also join the 100-Test club this week with R Ashwin, seems to be hitting his way out of every ball — at least from the outside. Ask him later, how he was batting, he would say, "that was probably the worst stint I've had, I am not sure which nets you were watching."

At the other net, Joe Root is attempting a reverse ramp and several members of the England camp are letting out a bit of 'oohs' and 'aahs'. England captain Ben stokes, who was about to leave the nets, mimics something on the lines of "how dare you/you cannot do that" and everyone breaks into a laugh. That, and what Bairstow said, perfectly sums up how England are approaching the game and the mood in the camp.

It might seem like they are doing well and everything is going their way from outside, they would come out and say that it was not and do so with confidence while having a laugh about it. They are feeling a lot more at home in terms of conditions, but at the same time, quickly reiterate that it is an used pitch — the last Ranji game that was played here between Delhi and Himachal Pradesh saw the away team bat at 6.19 run rate — where loads of runs were scored and pacers had a bit of help at the same time. Unlike the ODI World Cup, the outfield at the venue looks spectacular, something even Bairstow credited the groundsmen for, and despite the lush green outfield and moisture in the air, it could still well be a slow wicket with no trouble for batters.

MP vs Vidarbha: Semis set for final day drama

AGENCIES @ Nagpur

VIDARBHA took command of their Ranji Trophy semifinal with the key wicket of Yash Dubey (94) late on day four as they inched closer to a thrilling victory over Madhya Pradesh here on Tuesday. Heading into the final day on Wednesday, hosts Vidarbha are a mere four wickets away from setting up a date in the summit clash with Mumbai, while Madhya Pradesh, who need 93 runs to win, will hope their tailenders produce an inspired fightback.

The game tilted in favour of hosts Vidarbha in the penultimate over of the day when Aditya Sarwate (2/51) had Dubey caught by Aman Mokhade, dealing a body blow to Madhya Pradesh's hopes of making it to their second final in three years. Chasing 321 to win, Madhya Pradesh reached 228 for six at stumps on the fourth day with their last recognised batter in Saransh Jain (16 not out) joined by Kumar Kartikeya, requiring a huge effort with the bat with not much left in the tank. Dubey forged a crucial 106-run stand for the second wicket. Vidarbha kept making regular inroads after that.

Arsenal hit Sheffield for six

AGENCIES @ London

JORGINHO believes free-scoring Arsenal are approaching the Premier League title race with more maturity than last season, when they faltered in sight of the finishing line.

Mikel Arteta's men were top of the table for most of the 2022/23 campaign but Manchester City overtook them in the run-in to secure their third straight title. Arsenal have hit a purple patch since the turn of the year, winning all seven league games by an aggregate scoreline of 31-3 as they seek to become English champions for the first time since 2004.

The third-placed Gunners hammered bottom club Sheffield United 6-0 on Monday to move just one point behind City and two behind Liverpool, with 11 games to go. "The performance of the squad (was great) and the mentality to start strong and carry on the momentum," Jorginho said after his side's dominant performance win at Bramall Lane. "It was really, really good to see a team playing forward and want to keep going." Asked what is different about the team this year compared to the one that just fell short last season, the Italy international added: "I think the maturity. "We are way more mature how we compete and how we manage the games."

Arsenal raced out of the blocks, racking up a five-goal lead quicker than any away side in Premier League history — Declan Rice making it 5-0 in the 39th minute.

From the days of the Space Race, space stations have defined the technical will to chart the cosmos and go beyond our own visual realms of the universe

WHERE SPACE BEGINS

HRITHIK KIRAN BAGADE

WE are approaching summer, and for the residents of the northern hemisphere like us, the night sky sets the stage for the greatest glide-past of human ingenuity. Just that this glide-past happens at a speed of 28,000 kmph. That is the speed at which the International Space Station, or ISS, orbits the Earth at an altitude of 370-480 km. At that pace and height, the space station zips around the Earth every 90 minutes, crossing the sky as we see it in under six minutes.

The ISS is the Earth's biggest satellite, and technically, the third brightest object in the sky – after the Sun and the Moon. But what makes this 'satellite' different is that it's a large science laboratory, manned by a crew of over six specialists, who stay there for up to six months on specific missions, while some astronauts have remained on board for up to 340 days.

ISS, and other space stations, are among the great achievements of human space research and engineering, and depict our desire to truly go deeper into the cosmos. Recently, Prime Minister Narendra Modi set an ambitious goal of India having its own space station in orbit by 2035, for which ISRO has already started the groundwork. The space station, called the Bharatiya Antariksha Station, is slated to be placed in low-earth orbit, and could house 2-4 astronauts. This feat, while not only boosting ISRO's already legendary prowess, will also heighten India's space prestige, putting it in a select club of space-faring nations, including the US, Russia and China. With this, India would become the fourth country to have an independent space station in orbit.

A satellite with people

From Star Trek to Star Wars, humankind has always been charmed by the prospect of sailing into the cosmic abyss on a spaceship. Space stations almost reflect that reality, highlighting the science in what is otherwise science-fiction.

Technically, space stations are large artificial constructions (satellites with people on board) in orbit that possess a pressurised enclosure, power, supplies, and environmental systems necessary to support human habitation for extended periods of time. A small space station can be launched fully-assembled, but larger stations are sent up in modules from Earth on specialised spacecraft and assembled in orbit.

To ensure efficiency of carrier vehicle capacity, a space station is always launched vacant, with crew and additional equipment following in separate craft. When the Soviets launched the Mir Space Station in 1986, cosmonauts Leonid Kizim and Vladymir Solovyov shuttled between the retiring Salyut 7 and Mir.

A space station's operation calls for a transportation/docking system to ferry crew and hardware and to replenish the propellant, oxygen, water, food, and other essentials, as are consumed during routine operations on board. In terms of electrical power for everyday use for crew and equipment and for orbiting, space stations use large panels of solar cells and storage battery banks, while also relying on geostationary relay satellites for communication with ground mission control and satellite-based positioning systems for navigation.

These stations have docking ports to allow other spacecraft (such as shuttles) to dock to transfer crew and supplies. The purpose of maintaining an orbital outpost varies depending on the programme, including scientific (study of celestial bodies, Earth's resources, climate, healthcare, and environment), military (reconnaissance), industrial, and even tourism. American engineer Dennis Tito became the first space tourist, when he funded his own trip of eight days on board the ISS EP-1, a visiting mission to the ISS, in 2001.

Journey to the ISS and beyond

The first station was launched by the erstwhile Soviet Union. The Salyut 1, which went into orbit in 1971, was actually a combination of the Almaz and Soyuz spacecraft systems. While the Almaz was originally designed for space military use, and repurposed for the civilian Salyut space station, the Soyuz spacecraft was used to ferry cosmonauts from Earth to the station, and back. The 45-feet Salyut 1 comprised three main compartments that housed dining and recreation areas, food and water storage, a toilet, control stations, exercise equipment, and a science lab. The Salyut 1 was an epoch-making event during the Space Race, to which the US responded by placing its own first space station – Skylab 1 – in orbit in 1973. The development and launch of the two space stations by the two superpowers of the time, brought into view the limitless boundaries of space technology, culminating in the birth of the ISS.

In 1984, President Ronald Reagan proposed that the US, in cooperation with other countries, build a permanently inhabited space station. To help with the enormous costs of this project ($3 billion is the current cost of running the ISS every year), the US signed a cooperative effort with 14 other nations (Canada, Japan, Brazil; and the European Space Agency, involving the UK, France, Germany, Belgium, Italy, the Netherlands, Denmark, Norway, Spain, Switzerland, and Sweden). After the fall of the USSR, Russia was invited to join the programme in 1993. NASA led the ISS' construction.

On November 20, 1998, Russia's Zarya, the first ISS module, was launched by a Proton rocket. In all, the ISS is made up of 16 pressurised modules: six Russian modules (Zarya, Zvezda, Poisk, Rassvet, Nauka, and Prichal), eight American (BEAM, Leonardo, Harmony, Quest, Tranquility, Unity, Cupola, and Destiny), one Japanese (Kibo), and one European (Columbus). All these modules and other parts were delivered on 42 assembly flights – 37 on US space shuttles and five on Russian Proton/Soyuz rockets.

The main construction materials used in the ISS are Titanium, Kevlar, and high-grade steel, ensuring strength and light-weight design. The entire station is 356 feet end-to-end, almost as big as a football pitch, with 13 km of electrical wiring supporting its daily functions. The 55-foot robotic Canadarm2 has seven different joints and two end-effectors, or hands, and helps move entire modules, deploy science experiments and even transport spacewalking astronauts. The solar array wingspan is also a whopping 356 feet. The ISS has a pressurised volume of ~1,000 cubic metres, a mass of ~410,000 kg, ~100 kW of power output, a truss of 108.4 metres, and modules of 74 metres. Since 1998, the ISS has hosted 276 people on board, including astronauts, scientists, and tourists, from 22 countries, according to NASA data.

Astronauts go on spacewalks for space station construction, maintenance, upgrades, and experimentation through airlocks that open to the outside. Docking ports allow other spacecraft to connect to the space station, which bring new crews to replace old ones. Astronauts fly to the space station on the Soyuz, from the Baikonur Cosmodrome in Kazakhstan. Eight spacecraft, including SpaceX's Dragon, can be connected to the ISS at once, arriving just four hours after departing Earth.

The living and working conditions on the station needs getting used to, due to a lack of gravity and a sense of weightlessness. The living quarters are larger than a six-bedroom house (with six sleeping areas, two bathrooms, a gym, and a 360-degree viewing window). To mitigate the loss of muscle and bone mass in the human body in microgravity, the astronauts work out at least two hours a day, while also eating healthy meals fit for space flight, including fruits and vegetables. Also, the crew lives and works according to the GMT time zone. As of 2020, 36 space shuttle flights delivered supplies and equipment to the ISS, says NASA.

After astronauts return from their missions, they are subjected to medical evaluation, since they experience dizziness and a lack of motor movements. They must also get used to Earth's gravity.

Newer horizons

After its long and illustrious contribution to space research and human achievement, the ISS will one day see its demise. NASA has decreed that the space station will be terminated and sent hurtling into the Pacific Ocean in 2031, however, insisting that the risks posed to human life by the 400-tonne craft striking the planet will be minimal. This is how most large spacecraft end up, either in the ocean or by burning up in the atmosphere.

However, we are only at the beginning of space exploration. The frontiers of space continue to elude us, and as more countries develop their own space stations, more of the mysteries of the universe will be revealed. In 2021, China launched Tiangong, a permanently crewed space station, operated by China Manned Space Agency, and India will follow soon. When the Bharatiya Antariksha Station goes into orbit, "Saare Jahan Se Achha", will be the phrase to describe its graceful glide-past high up in the sky, when we spot it on a starry night from India.

In Bengaluru recently, celebrity yoga instructor Anshuka Parwani, who has trained the likes of Kareena Kapoor Khan, Deepika Padukone and Alia Bhatt, shares with CE, the fitness mantra of the B-Town brigade

BEND IT LIKE BOLLYWOOD

MONIKA MONALISA

BEND it like Bebo or stretch tall like Deepika Padukone... We know these Bollywood ladies make yoga look so glam on Instagram. However, Anshuka Parwani, the one who gets them to push their limits during training sessions, makes sure all these divas get the asanas right. A sought-after celebrity yoga instructor, Parwani, who was recently in the city, is the reason behind the fit beauties.

She was a national gold medal-winning swimmer, a commercial pilot, and a girl with dreams... She recalls that as a kid, she was 'put in the pool' to strengthen her lungs and counter asthma. Growing up, she loved the adrenaline of flying a plane until life decided to throw a curveball. A near-fatal accident changed the course of her life. She sustained multiple injuries, leaving her medically unfit to continue her commercial flying journey.

This caused her to be in bed for almost eight months. Seeing the impact of the incident, not just physically but mentally, Parwani's mother led her into yoga along with physiotherapy. Probably a decision that changed her life. "The decision was to do yoga not only for me but also to spread it to as many people as I could. Yoga came to me at one of my lowest phases in life. Yoga is truly magical, and I experienced how it changed my life. That was a pivotal moment," says the yoga and holistic wellness expert.

Parwani does not just train the créme de la créme of Bollywood but lives by the philosophy that balance is the key to her fitness. "Keep it balanced. It is not only about what you eat and how you move. It is also about your thoughts and the people around you. Everything has to be balanced. You cannot be on any extreme," says Parwani, who was seen enjoying a quintessential South Indian spread during her visit to Bengaluru.

Parwani's call to fame was when she started training Kareena Kapoor Khan. She also revealed that Kapoor-Khan was not just her first celebrity student but also her first ever student. "The first time I went into the class, I didn't know that I was going to meet her. It was my first-ever class as a teacher. So I was initially taken aback, but 30 seconds into the session, I switched on that teacher mode. You don't think about who you are teaching," she recalls. She also recently travelled to London to train Deepika Padukone during the latter's visit to BAFTA.

1. Bengaluru was once dotted with circulating libraries and reading rooms in every corner of the city, which have mostly vanished with just a few iconic ones still surviving. One of the biggest and most beautiful libraries with a reading room is the State Central Library with a collection of over three lakh books and is ideally located amidst the vast greenery at the centre of Cubbon Park. With the initiative of Sir M Visvesvaraya, the then Dewan of Mysore, the library was opened on May 1, 1915. Name the iconic historic building in which the library is housed.

2. One of the quaintest little heritage buildings on Nrupathunga Road is the Daly Memorial Hall built in 1917, named after Sir Hugh Daly, who served as the Resident of Mysore state and chief Commissioner of Coorg. The building houses one of the oldest libraries in the city founded in 1909 with a rich repository of old and rare books. Name the library.

3. Mahatma Gandhi while visiting Bengaluru in 1934 inaugurated a library at the Youth Association in Basavanagudi. In memory of his visit, the market in the area was named Gandhi Bazaar. Another iconic library with a reading room is housed at the Gokhale Institute of Public Affairs building on Bull Temple Road in Basavanagudi established on February 18, 1945. EXPRESS FEATURES

FOR 13-year-old Gokula Sahrudaya, performing his solo show, Chitte, has always come with a special feeling. But this time, it was even more special when he completed his 100th show over the weekend. Chitte, which translates to Butterfly, is a heartfelt story of Paapani, played by Sahrudaya, who looks at the world in search of love. Love and hunger are shown as the core of the play, making it not just a children's play. The play reminds us that it is every individual's responsibility to nurture and mentor each and every child. "The play tries to tell that a child's mental health is everyone's responsibility. On one end, we have the expectations and desires of children, and on the other, the play shows how the society, the family, and the system disrupts the lives of children," explains Lakshmi Raghunandan, Sahrudaya's mother.

The show is directed by Krishnamurthy Kavathar, a famous name in Kannada theatre, and the script is written by Beluru Raghunandan, Sahrudaya's father. "The play comes from a very personal quarter because my father had experienced similar struggles while growing up. But I am glad that through this play, we try to show the beauty of the world through humanity and compassion," says Sahrudaya.

Though it was the 100th show, Sahrudaya says he treated it like it was his first, 'practising his dialogues and expressions for weeks before performing the show.' "The director of the show has helped me a lot in this journey," he adds.

Sahrudaya started his acting journey when he was four years old. "So every year during summer holidays, he used to go to drama camps and participate. During the pandemic, we planned a solo play for him, and in March 2021, we came up with this play Chitte," recalls Lakshmi, adding that the show has travelled to many parts of the country and most places in Karnataka.

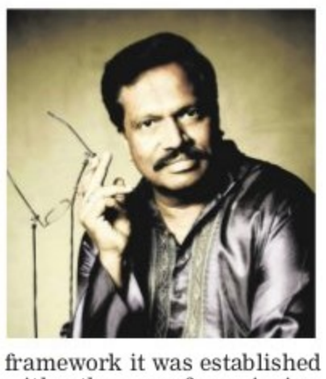
'Out of 100 films, only two or three are making a mark'

Veteran filmmaker TS Nagabharana on BIFFes' stagnation and the current state of Kannada film industry

DESE GOWDA



DAY 5 of the Bangalore International Film Festival (BIFFes) buzzed with excitement as veteran actors Girija Lokesh and MN Suresh, along with filmmakers Nagathihalli Chandrashekhar and TS Nagabharana, were seen attending screenings of films such as Ulidavaru Kandanthe, Terrestrial Verses, and City of Wind, among others.

Ahead of the screening of his award-winning film, Chigurida Kanasu, Nagabharana, who served as former director of BIFFes, expressed disappointment with the festival's recent stagnation. "BIFFes clings to the same outdated framework it was established with – the same faces, juries, and methods – despite rapid technological advancements in the industry. The films change, but the structure does not. To nurture a new generation within the industry, we must adapt. That's the objective," he says, further emphasising the need for a year-round festival director and the decentralisation of the event for broader accessibility. "A film festival shouldn't be a last-minute scramble; it needs a director working year-round to make it a significant event. Moreover, not everyone can access a single location. Holding satellite festivals in different areas of Bengaluru will make it more inclusive."

Day 5 of BIFFes saw a footfall of over 6,000 cinephiles

As a pioneer of Kannada parallel cinema, Nagabharana shared his concerns about the current state of the Kannada film industry. While films like KGF and Kantara have gained commercial success and national recognition, he believes that these successes alone don't reflect the industry's overall growth. "Nowadays, a film is noticed because of its earnings. It is seen by a larger audience due to the increased avenues available. Earlier, it was not like that. Filmmakers themselves had to carry the prints around the country to show the film. Out of 100 films, only two or three are making a mark today. Meanwhile, historically, even formulaic films had room for genuinely great cinema that inspired thought and positive change. Sadly, independent thinking is being eclipsed by ideologies infiltrating cinema. We need a 'middle path,' a commitment to cinema's power to unite and transcend divisions," he said, adding, "These kinds of festivals and independent filmmaking are crucial, but ultimately, Kannada cinema won't make a quantum leap without a dedicated film education system, a film university that caters to everyone from technicians to screenwriters."

A multi-award-winning author of Analog/ Virtual and The Ten Percent Thief, she's also a game designer, and has built FarmVille and Mafia Wars, among others.

Writing for games

The gaming industry is an exciting, vibrant space. While it's stressful and demanding, it can also be rewarding. If you enjoy writing or storytelling, here's how you can get started as a game writer:

- Play games: It seems obvious, but time spent gaming can help you understand how games are designed.
- Deconstruct how game narratives work: There are a million different ways to tell a story. Look for unique ways in which stories are structured across different games.
- Pay attention to detail: Good game writing doesn't just involve words on a screen. Observe art styles, animations, and the activities you're performing in any game you're playing, to understand how they fit together to fulfil the overall narrative.
- Experiment and prototype: Start writing and have fun with it! There are free online tools that can help you build a narrative game with relative ease. You could also use pen and paper—this is done in game studios all the time.
- Show your work: Test how your game works with friends and family, be open to feedback, and iterate. Put together a website or a portfolio for future internship and job interviews.

VIRABHADRASANA I RAISED ARMS

(WARRIOR POSE I RAISED ARMS)

This is one of the variations of Virabhadrasana I, which describes a series of poses named after a powerful warrior in Hindu mythology. It is a part of the primary series of Ashtanga yoga and a foundational asana in other schools of yoga. The series of poses stretch and strengthen the shoulders, arms, neck, legs, ankles and back. They also require balance and flexibility and promote mental focus and energising the mind and body.

STEPS

- Come back from Goddess Pose, turn to the right side and bring the torso also to the right side.
- Place the right foot to about 90 degrees and turn the torso to stand in Warrior Pose I.
- Now, adjust the torso and bend the right knee taking it just above the right ankle.
- Bring the arms above your head, palms together, fingers facing the sky and stay pushing the hips towards the floor.
- Make sure your left leg is straightened behind, heel is on the floor, toes are facing on your left side.
- Get the balance and adjust the hips, shoulders, and feet to be comfortable in this pose.
- You can stay in this pose for about six breaths, looking forward.
- Notice the stretching of the inner thighs, shoulders, knees, hamstrings and the lower back, and the hips opening,
- This pose plays an important role to bring stability in the body.
- You can repeat this pose on your left side following the above steps.
- Finally, come to the normal position of Dandasana and relax.

BENEFITS

- Stretches your arms, legs, shoulders, neck, belly, groins and ankles.
- Helps to improve the focus, balance and stability.
- More helpful to strengthen the biceps and triceps.
- Helps tone the abdomen and outer hips.
- Strengthens the posterior chin (back muscles, butt, hamstrings)
- Helps to open your hips, chest and lungs.
- Helps to encourage good circulation and respiration.
- More beneficial to energise the entire body.
- Stretches quadriceps, gluteus maximus, and calf muscles.
- Builds strength for the muscles supporting the knees.
- Strengthens your shoulders, arms, legs, ankles and back.
- Regular practise helps to strengthen the lower body.
- Looking forward in this pose brings focus to the chest and shoulders.
- Remaining longer in this pose improves breathing.
- Unnecessary strain to the ears and shoulders can be avoided.

LIMITATIONS

- People suffering from any chronic disorder or spinal cord ailments, heart problems, soreness in knees or rheumatoid arthritis, high blood pressure, avoid this pose.
- This pose is not beneficial for pregnant women
- Keep your head straight, if you have any problem in your neck.
- Do not emphasise too much on physical potential.

HIDDEN GEM

FLYLEAF
VR FEROSE

(The author is a technologist based in Silicon Valley who is gently mad about books)

IT took a chance encounter with Ron Dolin (husband of fellow Board Member of Arion Press, Stephanie Kimbro) for me to discover a hidden gem in my own backyard in South Delhi. Ron mentioned how he got a signed copy of Lady Chatterley's Lover from the antiquarian bookstore Memoirs of India. I was surprised that I had not heard of it; even my publisher just a few kilometres away was not aware of India's most significant Antiquarian & Rare bookstore. Without doubt one of the finest rare book shops in the Indian subcontinent, Memoirs is unique in that it is run by a passionate women bibliophile, a rarity in the trade.

My friend Pradeep Sebastian aptly calls Rashi Jain "bookwoman of India" in his latest collection of bibliophilic essays An Inky Parade. Memoirs, tucked away on a first floor in South Extension-2, is hard to find. I spent a couple of hours having a passionate conversation with Rashi and her very supportive husband Ashish Dugar. When I finally left, though reluctantly – fully aware that the longer I stayed the more I would spend on buying books – I had already bought the first edition copies of Gandhiji: His Life and Work (75th birthday commemorative book), Nehru: Abhinandan Granth (60th birthday commemorative book) and Waiting for the Mahatma by RK Narayan. What I could not afford were two extremely rare items of cricket memorabilia – an illustrated book of humour, Laws of Cricket, by Charles Crombie and a signed photograph of the entire Indian cricket team of 1932!

It all started in 1967 with a set of rare books acquired from a Parsi doctor! The curator of such vast collection, Rajiv Jain, is an extremely low-key individual and mostly relies on word-of-mouth clientele. His son Rishabh Jain, founder of Memoirs of India along with Rashi, has taken up the mantle to assert their presence in the digital world. The current collection of over 5,000 rare books acquired over five decades focuses specifically on books from the Indian subcontinent that are in pristine condition. The third generation has cautiously explored the online space to fulfill the needs of younger collectors.

Fully aware that the books printed in India are often damaged because of mishandling and poor paper quality, Rashi has a reliable team that restores some of the rare books. They also provide services like valuation, restoration, expert binding and fine framing. I was pleasantly surprised to see a spruced-up first edition of Gandhi's My Experiments with Truth. The books are kept carefully behind locked cabinets in glass casing with constant air-conditioning. The collections include colour plate books, rare prints and maps, fine bindings, first and signed editions and early printed books from India. When I referred to a rare copy of the Constitution of India, Rashi described how her dad had received 100 copies of it for ₹100 in 1984 and sold them later at a throwaway price of ₹3000 each, the market rate now a stunning ₹30 lakh for one in good condition!

Ashish narrated how his father-in-law Rajiv Jain once took him to Imperial Hotel in Janpath and informed him that every photo on the hotel walls was bought from him. He almost whispered the news, not with any sense of pride but in a matter-of-fact way. Such was his desire to remain hidden and anonymous, just like his books.

Rashi mentioned that one of her regrets was losing a signed copy of Lolita during relocation but it did not dampen her spirit and the joy of handling some of the rarest treasures that have passed through her hands. Rashi and Ashish came across as a very amicable and hospitable couple, hosting me like an old friend, engaging me with stories, enthusiastically showing me books across two floors – all for a walk-in customer. And as a parting gift they gave me a postcard from 1880!

Stealing a look over our digital fences

HRIDAY RANJAN
Urban Bourbon

(Writer, comedian)

NOTHING has captured the interest of the nation in the last week like the Ambani pre-wedding celebrations that took place in Jamnagar. Like middle-class couples of the '90s, we all peaked over our digital fences to steal a look at what happened. News reports of the amount of money spent kept flooding our feeds. Of course, my Communist comrades criticised the 'obscene show of opulence', while sipping on Red-Starbucks.

But weddings are an integral part of our culture. So much so that our art is reflective of the importance of weddings in our culture. The biggest blockbusters in our country have wedding songs where the family comes together to dance. Our most famous novels and plays are centered around weddings. Music and dance can also be found at weddings. If anything, weddings are crucial to our existence as Indians.

At the risk of offending my Communist friends, I would like to clarify that I am a supporter of extravagant displays of opulence. Traditionally, the rich in our country are expected to be humble and pious. But that is boring! It was fun to see Bollywood stars appear like middle-class guests – travelling in buses, serving food, and dancing in the background. It was fun to watch Hollywood stars descend to the Jamnagar Met Gala. To watch Rihanna perform, thus coming under the Jio Umbrella-ella-ella-ella.

But I'm sure there were things typical to Indian weddings too. I can imagine billionaire aunties complaining that the gajar halwa wasn't 24-carrot pure. Or rich uncles trying to convince the bartender to keep the bar open for a little longer! Youngsters doing the 'Serpentine Cha-Cha-Cha' – the billionaire version of the Naagin dance. I imagine Mark Zuckerberg and Bill Gates must have stood in line asking the pani-puri bhaiyya to give a 'khatta-teekha mix'.

Meanwhile, we all became the nosy neighbours peeking from their balconies – through memes, news reports, and reels. In fact, I can totally understand why guests like Rihanna and Bill Gates were invited to the wedding. In my childhood, a neighbouring family boasted of Mithun Chakraborty as a guest to their wedding – it got them social clout for more than a decade after!

If anything, weddings humanise celebrities to an extent. After watching them save the nation every Friday by killing evil Pakistanis, we are reminded that they are humans too. That they get drunk, get emotional, and dance at weddings for a price. And who am I to judge these great people? As a stand-up comedian, I have gleefully performed at saree functions, kitty parties, and school get-togethers. I have tried to outperform the pundits at weddings, and been asked not to crack jokes on the groom in front of his future in-laws.

So amidst all the hullabaloo, I must clarify that I am all for opulent celebrity weddings. Like the great Martin Luther King, I too have a dream. I imagine a future where celebrities would become a common sight at Indian weddings. Imagine Jack Ma serving rajma, and Joe Rogan serving Rogan-josh. A future where Justin Beiber showers rice grains on newly-weds. Or Taylor Swift gifting an angavastram made by a swift tailor! It would truly be a case of India shining! In case you're reading this Mr Ambani – congratulations on the wedding. And I just want to conclude that I DO in fact perform at weddings, and at a fraction of the price charged by Smt Rihanna. Thank you!

TROLLS AND REELS HAVE BECOME INSTANT ENTERTAINMENT: REESHMA NANAIAH

As an actor, one is often reminded of being in the public eye and advised to develop a thick skin. But, ultimately, everyone is human, and dealing with bad trolls and differing opinions isn't easy for anyone

A SHARADHAA

Reeshma Nanaiah, the face of the song, was pleasantly surprised and ecstatic with the way the Trollagatte song turned out. She mentioned that when Upendra chose her for the film, he had specifically expressed the need for someone innocent yet proactive, jovial, and full of energy, qualities she was prepared to embody. "Choreographer Imran Sardhariya had mentioned how having such a track in Upendra's direction was amazing," says Reeshma.

"The song holds significant relevance as it delves into the world of trolls, and what they desire, as observed by director Upendra," says Reeshma. The actor further mentions that every line in the song carries a meaningful message, shedding light on a different perspective. "The troll track can be perceived either as a message or a statement," she adds.

Regarding her personal views on trolls and reels, Reeshma remarked, "Trolls and reels have become a means of instant entertainment. However, the good and funny ones are widely accepted. Especially, when you get to watch reels on Karimani Malika, such memes spread smiles. However, negative trolls are hard for anyone to endure. As an actor, one is often reminded of being in the public eye and advised to develop a thick skin. But, ultimately, everyone is human, and dealing with bad trolls and differing opinions isn't easy for anyone. If you ask me, if someone has nothing good to say, it's better to say nothing at all."

..says Guruprasad about Ranganayaka, the anticipation surrounding his collaboration with actor Jaggesh, a combination eagerly awaited by audiences

CE FEATURES

Director Guruprasad, known for pushing boundaries in storytelling, has left an indelible mark with critically acclaimed films like Mata(2006) and Eddelu Manjunatha (2009), Director Special (2013). Now, after 15 years since Eddelu Manjunatha, Guruprasad and Jaggesh reunite for Ranganayaka, igniting anticipation among their respective fans. The film also stars Rachitha Mahalakshmi as the female lead and has music composed by Anoop Seelin.

Ranganayaka seems to revolve around a narrative steeped in the backdrop of 1911, bringing a mix of veteran and contemporary stars into the picture, which sparked discussion before its release. While speculation runs rife about the film's storyline, Guruprasad remains tight-lipped, teasing audiences with just enough to keep their curiosity piqued until the film's release on March 8.

"I want to transport my audience to that era," says Guruprasad. He then adds, "Ranganayaka transports viewers to a bygone era; its themes remain universally relevant. The film is more a blend of tradition with contemporary storytelling," he adds. Reflecting on his collaboration with Jaggesh, Guruprasad acknowledges the anticipation surrounding their partnership, especially evident in the overwhelming response to the film's trailer crossing millions of views. "Thirty-two years in the industry, the pulse of the audience towards cinema remains unpredictable," Guruprasad muses, adding, "But as a director, my focus is always on delivering entertainment that resonates with the Kannada audience. Whether it's Mata, Eddelu Manjunatha, or Ranganayaka, I strive to offer something unique, integrating actors such as Jaggesh into roles that infuse richness and authenticity into the storyline."

I LIKE GURUPRASAD'S HOLD OVER THE KANNADA LANGUAGE: AR VIKHYATH

Producer Vikhyath AR, who is bankrolling Ranganayaka under Vikhyath Chitra Productions, has been an avid follower of director Guruprasad's career since his early years, and he shares his excitement for their upcoming collaboration. "I've always been a fan of Guruprasad's work and have watched his Mata and Eddelu Manjunatha at least 40 times. I particularly like his hold over the Kannada language," Vikyath exclaims. Vikhyath, who entered cinema as a director, found resonance in Guruprasad's distinct writing style. Reflecting on this, Vikhyath adds, "I was eager to bring back the hit combination of Guruprasad and Jaggesh. It was during this discussion with the director that he pitched the subject of Ranganayaka, set in a bygone era. I found the concept fascinating and bankrolled the project," says Vikhyath, adding, "Guruprasad's unique narrative style, intertwining past and present, adds layers to the storytelling."
